three major areas of international trade agriculture textiles and clothing T C and cross border labor mobility Incidentally these are also the trade sectors which experienced widespread protectionist measures especially in developed world for decade after decade Under the World Trade Organization WTO which replaced the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade GATT in 1995 much of the restrictions in T C trade has been phased out but still this sector faces much higher tariff and non tariff barriers than any other manufacturing sector in world economy The agricultural sector also experienced significant dismantling of deeply entrenched trade barriers under the WTO over the course of last two decades but the sector still remains plagued with quite extensive domestic supports export subsidies and tariff barriers At the same time despite both theoretical expositions and empirical trends point to significant potential gains from cross border labor mobility the sector remains mired in a complex quagmire of economic and political restrictions around the world Thus all three sectors in which less developed countries have exports interests still remain less liberalized than the sectors in which developed countries have exports interests This book provides an in depth and up to date scholarly analysis of all three trade sectors agriculture T C and cross border labor mobility with a penetrating scrutiny of historical backgrounds and developments crosscurrents of interests and perspectives of both developed and developing countries and evolving trade patterns and potentials in a more liberalized and globalized world economy The book also identifies critical economic issues and options for less developed countries in the WTO negotiations for further liberalization of agriculture T C and cross border labor mobility This volume will be an important point of reference for students scholars and practitioners of international trade economic development development economics and WTO related issues
