Bbc News Persian Live:

Social Media at BBC News Valerie Belair-Gagnon, 2015-02-11 Since the emergence of social media in the journalistic landscape the BBC has sought to produce reporting more connected to its audience while retaining its authority as a public broadcaster in crisis reporting Using empirical analysis of crisis news production at the BBC this book shows that the emergence of social media at the BBC and the need to manage this kind of material led to a new media logic in which tech savvy journalists take on a new centrality in the newsroom In this changed context the politico economic and socio cultural logic have led to a more connected newsroom involving this new breed of journalists and BBC audience This examination of news production events shows that in the midst of transformations in journalistic practices and norms including newsgathering sourcing distribution and impartiality the BBC has reasserted its authority as a public broadcaster Click here for a short video about the book

FCO Performance and Finances 2011-12 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee, 2013-04-19 The Foreign Affairs Committee publishes a wide ranging report on the work of the Foreign and Commonwealth Office FCO and two of its sponsored bodies the BBC World Service and the British Council It makes key recommendations on language skills for top diplomats BBC World service funding and priorities and funding for the British Council For the FCO the exclusion of foreign language skills and reliance purely on general management competencies creates the risk of credibility in respect of key diplomatic postings The Committee finds it unacceptable that the World Service will not know its budget priorities or objectives before the transition to licence fee funding and the new arrangements for oversight by the BBC Trust from April 2014 The British Council will struggle to deliver the UK's foreign policy objectives if cuts to grant funding from the FCO continue at a similar rate The Committee recommends that the FCO should shield the British Council from the effect of any further cuts to the FCO budget in 2015 16

HC 398 - BBC Charter Review Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Culture, Media, and Sport Committee, 2016 The BBC is an extraordinary national and global institution Often one of the very few things people outside this country know about Britain is that it is the home of the BBC The BBC's value lies not only in the organisation itself but in its accumulated reputation experience and goodwill in its public service remit and in its place at the centre of a vibrant broadcasting industry It sets a standard in broadcasting quality impartiality and independence that serves as a benchmark for others For these reasons the BBC has a vast amount to contribute as an international standard of excellence in public service broadcasting At a time when many media organisations are reducing their international coverage relying on a few feeds and becoming more prone to crowd behaviour there is a huge opportunity for the BBC to consolidate this global position But the BBC also has a role as a beacon of enlightened values of openness freedom of thought toleration and diversity As the world increasingly divides on ideological and sectarian grounds it is vital more than ever today to preserve an educated public realm in which civilised debate and the mutually respectful exchange of ideas may flourish What would it take to create another It is very hard to imagine how it could be done Yet this does not mean the BBC is beyond improvement or secure from technological financial or commercial challenge First its core activities are under serious commercial threat from traditional competitors from new online insurgents from lower cost providers of access to high quality programming among others New technologies and ways of accessing programmes are pushing the BBC to consider long term alternatives to the licence fee Secondly the BBC is not well served by its often unwieldy bureaucracy its internal politics and a culture which has been criticised as arrogant and introspective And finally the BBC's Director General has argued that the licence fee is viable for the coming Charter period But as commercial and technological pressures converge as the BBC's market share continues to fall and a new generation consumes its media in innumerable new ways there is the question whether or not the licence fee funding model can be sustained

Foreign and Commonwealth Office Annual Report 2007-08

Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee, 2009 This report is the Committee's annual review of how the FCO is managing its resources examining the departmental annual report for 2007-08 Cm 7398 ISBN 9780101739825 Chapters cover new strategic framework performance measurement global network essential services FCO Services personnel issues transparency and openness financial management public diplomacy and communication the British Council the BBC World Service The Committee is concerned that the FCO is facing serious financial pressures in this financial year due to the Treasury's withdrawal of its support for the Overseas Pricing Mechanism OPM which used to protect departments from the weakening of sterling There is a risk that the FCO may not be able to meet higher international subscriptions over the next two financial years causing its performance against Public Service Agreement targets to suffer The likely increase in the UN Regular Budget and other international subscriptions will push this figure even higher The FCO should have to shoulder the financial burden from within its already tight budget to pay for subscriptions which also benefit other Government departments The Committee recommends that additional nondiscretionary costs should properly be met by the Treasury
