

1: Business activity

Revision checklist

- Business activity combines the factors of production to produce goods and services that meet consumer needs and wants.
- The economic problem and the problem of scarcity are due to unlimited needs and wants of consumers which cannot be met by businesses because they have limited factors of production. Choices must be made and this creates an opportunity cost.
- Specialisation of both labour and capital helps businesses to produce more goods and services at a lower cost.
- Businesses add value by taking raw materials and turning these into goods and services that they can sell to consumers.

Exam practice questions

1. Jonah is employed as a joiner by a firm whose main business activity is building houses. The firm also employs bricklayers, plumbers, painters and other skilled tradesmen. Other factors of production are used when building houses. The owner of the firm, Jack, believes that specialisation of labour brings many benefits to the business and its employees.

In his spare time, Jonah makes wooden toys which his sister sells on her stall at the local market. He buys the wood and other resources from a local supplier. The wooden toys have been so successful that Jonah has decided to leave his job as a joiner to set up his own toy-making business.

- Identify two stages of business activity. [2]
- Define 'opportunity cost'. [2]
- Identify four factors of production. [4]
- Explain two ways Jonah could add value to his toys. [6]
- Do you agree with Jack that 'specialisation of labour brings many benefits to the business and its employees'? Justify your answer. [6]

2. Company X is a manufacturer of pottery products, such as plates and bowls, which are mainly sold to hotels and restaurants. The company employs 50 workers. Each employee receives a good wage and this helps them to meet their needs. Production is broken down into nine processes. Employees specialise in just one process. The marketing manager of Company X has been asked by the directors to look at ways of adding value to the company's products.

- Identify two factors of production. [2]
- Define 'needs'. [2]
- Outline how Company X benefits from specialisation. [4]
- Explain two stages of Company X's production process. [6]
- Suggest two ways the marketing manager might increase Company X's added value. Justify your answer. [6]

Class in the New Millennium Will Atkinson, 2017-02-17 Class in the New Millennium paints a fresh and comprehensive picture of social class in Britain today. Anchored in a broad repertoire of methods and pursuing a distinctive theoretical agenda, it not only painstakingly maps the structure transformation and effects of the UK's key fault lines but goes behind closed doors to see how they play out in everyday family life. Throughout the book, Atkinson throws new light on a diverse array of themes including the continued effects of deindustrialisation, educational expansion, feminisation of the workforce, and surging employment insecurity; the persistence of lifestyle cleavages despite cultural and technological change; the growth of political disengagement; the transformation of the Labour Party and the rise of nationalism; the entwinement of class with space, place, and physical movement; and the way in which class interacts with intimate relations to shape not just the way we decorate our walls or talk over the dining table but the very reproduction of the class structure itself. This innovative title will appeal to scholars as well as advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students interested in the fields of sociology, politics, and political science, cultural studies, cultural geography, social policy, and social work. Advances in

Anti-establishment Parties Tomáš Cirhan, 2023-08-14 This book examines the new anti-establishment parties electorally succeeding at the expense of their established counterparts and argues that party organization matters for their electoral success. It explores a relationship between these parties' electoral success and their party organization. Using a framework to explain the role of organizational features such as local party branches party membership and party elites in this process it reveals how they help parties to be more stable cohesive and legitimate a state that facilitates better conditions for electoral success It also shows that control over party organization is achieved partially by the existence of a corporate network associated with party leaders businesses This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of party politics and political parties anti establishment politics and Eastern European politics     Effective Delivery of Integrated Interventions in Early Childhood: Innovations in Evidence Use, Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning Jane Fisher,Abhay Gaidhane,Mahalaqua Nazli Khatib,Zahiruddin Quazi Syed,2021-12-01     The Politics of the Presidency John Anthony Maltese,Andrew Rudalevige,Joseph A.
