Better Library Design Rebecca T. Miller, Barbara A. Genco, 2015-12-28. Few librarians build more than one library in their careers and renovating or building a whole new library is a very expensive investment. Thus, new or refurbished structures need to be fresh and up to date. While some librarians have the means to visit exemplary buildings as they develop their own library's master plan, most library leaders and stakeholders won't actually see the full range of potential projects. Hence, this unique book is both a resource and a brainstorm prompt. It helps library leaders and key stakeholders surface the ideal programmatic aspects that drive exciting design and offer recent design solutions that have been effectively implemented. Better Library Design Ideas from Library Journal identifies and celebrates the top trends in library design, capturing current state and providing an authoritative overview for those planning their own projects. This is a colorful, high-content survey of dynamic library building projects completed in the last five years in both public and academic settings. Anchored by Library Journal's New Landmark Libraries competition, here are the nation's best examples of innovative, functional, appealing design, all in glorious full color, so you'll be both inspired and informed as you make important design choices.

Shopping While Black Shaun L. Gabbidon, George E. Higgins, 2020-05-25. Winner of the 2022 Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Outstanding Book Award. Shopping While Black: Consumer Racial Profiling in America lays out the results of nearly two decades of research on racial profiling in retail settings. Gabbidon and Higgins address the generally neglected racial profiling that occurs in retail settings. Although there is no existing national database on shoplifting or consumer racial profiling, CRP from which to study the problem, they survey relevant legal cases and available data sources. This problem clearly affects a large number of racial/ethnic minorities and causes real harm to the victims, such as the emotional trauma attached to being excessively monitored in stores and in the worst case scenarios, falsely accused of shoplifting. Their analysis is informed by their own experience; one co-author is a former security executive for a large retailer and both are Black men.

who understand firsthand the sting of being profiled because of their color After providing an overview of the history of CRP and the official and unofficial data sources and criminological literature on this topic they address public opinion polls as well as the extent and impact of victimization They also provide a review of CRP litigation provide recommendations for retailers to reduce racial profiling and also chart some directions for future research This book is appropriate for researchers as well as advanced undergraduates and graduate students in Criminology Black Studies Ethnic Studies Sociology Security Studies and Law programs and will be of interest to the general reader
