Selected Perspectives on Platforms in E-Commerce Ecosystems Tobias Wulfert, 2024-08-02 Digital platforms hold significant economic value enriching various industry sectors While they are pivotal in driving value creation and capture it is not solely their technological prowess that underpins their economic significance Rather their effectiveness lies in their integration within business ecosystems In this study Tobias Wulfert examines digital platforms in the context of e commerce through five lenses Enterprise architecture Boundary resources Application lifecycle Dynamic capabilities Value creation This analysis focuses on different e commerce platform types developing an architectural framework and a taxonomy for classification The author also delineates e commerce ecosystem architectures emphasizing the role of platforms as central components and the involvement of peripheral ecosystem participants He explores boundary resources as crucial interfaces between platforms and ecosystem participants He further suggests a reference procedure model for the management of these boundary resources Furthermore he delves into the dynamic capabilities necessary for effective ecosystem orchestration identifying configurations of dynamic capabilities that can confer sustainable competitive advantages

South and East Asian Cinemas Across Borders Clelia Clini,Rohit K. Dasgupta,Yanling Yang,2021-11-29 This edited volume focuses on South and East Asian cinema exploring transnational connections between these film industries from the point of view of narratives topics and themes as well as in terms of co productions At a time of resurgent nationalisms and increasing fortifications of actual and symbolic borders the chapters in this book explore cinematic work that challenge these boundaries and promote a reflection on the social cultural political and economic value of international exchanges and collaborations within the context of Asia Indeed notwithstanding the aforementioned tendency to implement border policing and the revival of nationalist sentiments South and East Asian cinemas retain a strong transnational character as not only genres and themes are borrowed and exchanged across borders but also the popularity of the Indian Chinese and Korean film industries extend well beyond their national borders within Asia as well as in the West The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Transnational Screens

The Russian Orthodox Community in Hong Kong Loretta E. Kim,Chengyi Zhou,2021-08-23 Hong Kong has been a unique society from its establishment as a political region separate from mainland China in the nineteenth century under British colonial rule until the present day as a special administrative region of the People s Republic of China A hub of interregional and international migration it has been the temporary and long term home of people belonging to many racial ethnic and cultural groups This book examines the evolution of the community established by clergy and congregants of the Russian Orthodox Church This community was first developed in the 1930s and then revived after a hiatus of over two decades from the 1970s to the 1990s with the founding of the Orthodox Parish of Apostles Saints Peter and Paul OPASPP at the turn of the twenty first century This study demonstrates how the OPASPP has become a vital provider of knowledge about Russian language and culture as well as a religious institution serving both heritage and convert believers The community formed by and around the OPASPP is important to foster Sino Russian relations based on individual to individual contact and mutual exposure to Chinese and Russian cultures in a region of China which allows spiritual and social diversity with minimal political constraints
