Learning, Design, and Technology J. Michael Spector, Barbara B. Lockee, Marcus D. Childress, 2023-10-14 The multiple related fields encompassed by this Major Reference Work represent a convergence of issues and topics germane to the rapidly changing segments of knowledge and practice in educational communications and technology at all levels and around the globe. There is no other comparable work that is designed not only to gather vital current and evolving information and understandings in these knowledge segments but also to be updated on a continuing basis in order to keep pace with the rapid changes taking place in the relevant fields. The Handbook is composed of substantive 5 000 to 15 000 words peer reviewed entries that examine and explicate seminal facets of learning theory research and practice. It provides a broad range of relevant topics including significant developments as well as innovative uses of technology that promote learning performance and instruction. This work is aimed at researchers, designers, developers, instructors, and other professional practitioners.

Junior Graphic Mavis Kitcher (Mrs), 2014-04-02 Community Participation in School Management Kazuro Shibuya, 2022-09-12 Nobody denies that trust in schools is key to success in generating any educational outcomes. However, trust is often eroded resulting in conflicts, alienation and differentiation among school level stakeholders. This book analyses school based management (SBM) of education through the lens of relational trust in the context of Ghana, revealing how community participation in school management leads to educational outcomes. Conducting quantitative analysis of headteacher questionnaires from public basic schools and qualitative analysis of case study schools in the Akatsi South District of Ghana, Shibuya offers critical insights into building sustainable relationships between individual households and geographical school communities. He argues it is critical to highlight relational trust as an analytical tool to examine relationships between actors and factors in school management. The research finds that trust in schools is a two way mechanism and the mutuality of expectations and obligations among stakeholders is essential if children's learning outcomes are to improve. With its mixed methods approach this book will be a valuable resource for scholars in comparative education, those in educational development and those interested in African contexts.

Teacher Education at the Edge Tonya Huber, James G. O'Meara, 2019-10-24 This book series aims to realize Education 2030's vision of inclusive, equitable, quality education and lifelong learning. It provides a forum for diverse voices covering topics like early childhood development, equal access, sustainable living skills, literacy and safe learning environments.

War, Women and Post-conflict Empowerment Josephine Beoku-Betts, Fredline A. M'Cormack-Hale, 2022-01-13 Since the 1991-2002 civil conflict ended in Sierra Leone, the country has failed to translate the accomplishments of women's involvement in bringing the war to an end into meaningful political empowerment. This is in marked contrast to other post conflict countries which have increased the political participation of women in elected and appointed office, increased the representation of women in leadership positions and enacted constitutional reforms promoting women's rights. Written by Sierra Leonean and Africanist scholars and experts from a broad range of disciplines this unique volume analyses the historical and contextual factors influencing women s political economic and social development in the country In drawing on a diverse array of case studies from health to education refugees to international donors the contradictions successes and challenges of women s lives in a post conflict environment are revealed making this an essential book for anyone involved in women and development Socioculturally Responsive Assessment Randy E. Bennett,Linda Darling-Hammond,Aneesha Badrinarayan,2025-05-01 Socioculturally Responsive Assessment assembles the best available thinking from within and outside the educational measurement community about the theoretical foundations and systems level policy implications of formal assessment programs designed to be socioculturally responsive Synthesized from culturally responsive assessment design and practices culturally relevant pedagogy and funds of knowledge universal design for learning the learning sciences and other literatures this emerging concept affirms that students learning and performance is inextricably tied to the social cultural and linguistic contexts in which they live and develop knowledge Across four sections this book provides an argument and initial evidence for impact on students users and assessment quality offers guidance for implementation and examines the potential limitations pitfalls barriers and measurement issues that such programs will inevitably raise Scholars teaching faculty test developers and policymakers will come away with integral foundations new assessment approaches and a greater sense of the potential for positive impact that these assessments may afford Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh,2014-04-15 Children, Childhood, and the Future Andrea Kleeberg-Niepage,2020-01-10 Although most of the world s children live in the Global South much of the corpus of scientific knowledge which forms the basis of the current notion of good childhood worldwide is drawn from research on Western middle class children Even cross cultural research often applies the Western model of childhood as the standard to which others must correspond This volume serves to bridge this gap by both bringing up significant features of the development and socialisation of children in African countries and presenting cross cultural procedures which help to discuss and develop differentiated and joint ideas about childhood instead of implementing one sided standards which are disconnected from most children s lives Qui est qui en France ,2014
