Reimagining Journalism in a Post-Truth World Ed Madison, Ben DeJarnette, 2018-02-08 Amidst alternative facts and post truth politics news journalism is more important and complex than ever This book examines journalism s evolution within digital media s ecosystem where lies often spread faster than truth and consumers expect conversations not lectures

The 2016 U S presidential election delivered a stunning result but the news media's breathless coverage of it was no surprise. News networks turned debates into primetime entertainment; reporters spent more time covering poll results than public policy issues and the cozy relationship between journalists and political insiders helped ensure intrigue and ratings even as it eroded journalism's role as democracy's Fourth Estate. Against this sobering backdrop, a broadcast news veteran and a millennial newshound consider how journalism can regain the public's trust by learning from pioneers both within and beyond the profession. Connecting the dots between faux news, fake news, and real news, coauthors Madison and DeJarnette provide an unflinching analysis of where mainstream journalism went wrong and what the next generation of reporters can do to make it right. The significance of Donald Trump's presidency is not lost on the authors but Reimagining Journalism in a Post Truth World is not a post mortem of the 2016 presidential election nor is it a how to guide for reporting on Trump's White House. Instead, this accessible and engaging book offers a broader perspective on contemporary journalism, pairing lively anecdotes with insightful analysis of long term trends and challenges. Drawing on their expertise in media innovation and entrepreneurship, the authors explore how comedians like John Oliver, Trevor Noah, and Samantha Bee are breaking and reshaping the rules of political journalism; how legacy media outlets like The Boston Globe, The Washington Post, and The New York Times are retooling for the digital age; and how newcomers like Vice, Harkn, and De Correspondent are innovating new models for reporting and storytelling. Anyone seeking to make sense of modern journalism and its intersections with democracy will want to read this book.

Gekhtman, M. Shapiro, A. Vainshtein, 2017-02-20. This is the second paper in the series of papers dedicated to the study of natural cluster structures in the rings of regular functions on simple complex Lie groups and Poisson Lie structures compatible with these cluster structures. According to our main conjecture, each class in the Belavin-Drinfeld classification of Poisson Lie structures corresponds to a cluster structure. The authors have shown before that this conjecture holds for any in the case of the standard Poisson Lie structure and for all Belavin-Drinfeld classes. In this paper, the authors establish it for the Cremmer-Gervais Poisson Lie structure on which is the least similar to the standard one.      Government Reports Annual Index, 1983      Gale Directory of Publications and Broadcast Media, Donald P.
