

Alphabets & Numbers - Geography Worksheets

Alphabets and numbers are the first things we learn, alphabets teach us how to write and numbers teach us how to count. These are very basic skills. The alphabets and numbers are often combined to teach geography. Letters 'A' and 'B' are used to represent continents and '1' and '2' are used to represent oceans.

The letters being used while pronouncing the continents and oceans are usually chosen by the teacher. The alphabets and pronouns are used to teach the continents and oceans. The letters are chosen to make the alphabets represent geographical features. For example, 'A' is used to represent Africa, 'B' to represent Brazil, 'C' to represent Canada, 'D' to represent Australia and 'E' to represent Europe. The letters are chosen to make the alphabets and pronouns represent the continents and oceans.
