6. You are holding a piece of aluminum. As you hold it, write, "This one on the left is aluminum." A student should repeat, "This one on the left is aluminum." Then, you are holding a piece of lead. As you hold it, write, "This one on the right is lead." A student should repeat, "This one on the right is lead."
7. Now, students will have to identify the three rocks using a scale. The one on the left is 150 units, the one in the middle is 100 units, and the one on the right is 100 units.
