Fire in the Sea David A. McKee, Henry Compton, 2014-01-27. The cold, stygian dark of the extreme sea depths is home to some of our planet's strangest creatures. Even their names evoke a science-fiction adventure: dragonfishes, greeneyes, viperfishes, mirrorbellies, lanternfishes. Marine biologist Henry Hank Compton, 1928-2005, of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Rockport Marine Lab, was present on some of the earliest Gulf of Mexico cruises on which these fishes were collected for the first time in Texas waters. Upon returning, Compton would retire to the darkroom he had constructed beneath a stairwell at the lab and photograph the specimens. A talented artist, Compton then painted watercolors based on his photographs. He allowed free rein to both his scientific judgment and his artistic vision as he constructed representations of how the specimens might have appeared in the crushing pressure of their alien environment. Compton dubbed the series of deep-water paintings Fire in the Sea because of the shimmering bioluminescence common to these deep-water species. Then, along with taxonomic descriptions, he drafted fanciful narratives to accompany the paintings: quirky, humorous, and sometimes cryptic stories of the fishes in their unreachable habitat. Professor, researcher, and author David A. McKee has taken Compton's work, discovered in cardboard boxes following his death, and along with others, provided chapters on bioluminescence, life in the deep, taxonomic arrangement, and life history information. Digit, 2007. Moody's OTC Industrial Manual, 1992. Companies traded over the counter or on regional conferences.

Fishes of the Rainbow David A. McKee, Henry Compton, 2019-06-18. In warm, shallow waters around the world, coral reefs teem with tens of thousands of marine species. Reefs rival rain forests in biodiversity, and about a third of the world's marine fish species live part of their lives on coral reefs. In the 1960s, marine biologist Henry Hank Compton, 1928-2005, of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Rockport Marine Lab, participated in the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean research cruises on which some of these fishes were collected. A talented artist, Compton painted watercolors based on photographs of collected specimens. Along with taxonomic descriptions, Compton wrote imaginative narratives to accompany the paintings: humorous and quirky.
