New Forms of Self-Narration Ana Belén Martínez García,2020-08-21 This book is a timely study of young women's life writing as a form of human rights activism It focuses on six young women who suffered human rights violations when they were girls and have gone on to become activists through life writing Malala Yousafzai Hyeonseo Lee Yeonmi Park Bana Alabed Nujeen Mustafa and Nadia Murad Their ongoing life writing projects diverge to some extent but all share several notable features they claim a testimonial collective voice they deploy rights discourse they excite humanitarian emotions they link up their context bound plight with bigger social justice causes and they use English as their vehicle of self expression and self construction This strategic use of English is of vital importance as it has brought them together as icons in the public sphere within the last six years New Forms of Self Narration is the first ever attempt to explore all these activists life writing texts side by side encompassing both the written and the audiovisual material online and offline and taking all texts as belonging to a unique single though multifaceted project Against White Interiority Sam

Binkley,2023-07-04 This book presents a bold critique of the new racial sensibility that has attained global prominence following the police murder of George Floyd Through a set of managerial and therapeutic discourses this new sensibility describes the inner racial life of white subjects inducing them to adopt a therapeutic attitude toward deeply interiorized white emotions and conflicts In so doing the new racial sensibility promises to remake whiteness in the image of the self aware racial ally However such an appeal it is argued serves the subtle function of the preservation of white racial dispositions and the reproduction of the very racism it sets out to transform Adopting a critical lens derived from Michel Foucault s analysis of sexuality together with an engagement with sociological psychoanalytic and phenomenological reflections on shame as a racial affect a critique of white interiority considers alternative frames through which white anti racist subjection might be imagined
