Teaching Literacy in Urban Schools Barbara Purdum-Cassidy,Lakia M. Scott,2018-03-02 Today s public schools represent greater student diversity than ever before in the history of the United States yet pedagogical approaches as mandated by state education agencies and school districts superimpose mainstream curricula and instructional practices which ultimately disadvantage the academic outcomes of the majority minority African American and Hispanic Latino a students Unfortunately national report findings also heighten the educational crisis that exists for Black and Brown children with regard to reading and writing achievement As a result there is need to deeply explore the relationship between Black and Brown student literacy achievement and educational policy teacher education program curriculum and assessment This book seeks to provide some practical insights guided by conceptual and contextual knowledge by understanding how to teach urban African American and Hispanic Latino a students by discussing culturally appropriate instructional strategies that have demonstrated success among African American and Hispanic Latino a students This book will showcase successful models for teaching literacy to urban student through a discussion of topics that include 1 increasing literacy achievement and motivation 2 multicultural literacy practices and 3 early and elementary literacy instruction

Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 National Research Council,Institute of Medicine,Board on Children, Youth, and Families,Committee on the Science of Children Birth to Age 8: Deepening and Broadening the Foundation for Success,2015-07-23 Children are already learning at birth and they develop and learn at a rapid pace in their early years This provides a critical foundation for lifelong progress and the adults who provide for the care and the education of young children bear a great responsibility for their health development and learning Despite the fact that they share the same objective to nurture young children and secure their future success the various practitioners who contribute to the care and the education of children from birth through age 8 are not acknowledged as a workforce unified by the common knowledge and competencies needed to do their jobs well Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 explores the science of child development particularly looking at implications for the professionals who work with children This report examines the current capacities and practices of the workforce the settings in which they work the policies and infrastructure that set qualifications and provide professional learning and the government agencies and other funders who support and oversee these systems This book then makes recommendations to improve the quality of professional practice and the practice environment for care and education professionals These detailed recommendations create a blueprint for action that builds on a unifying foundation of child development and early learning shared knowledge and competencies for care and education professionals and principles for effective professional learning Young children thrive and learn best when they have secure positive relationships with adults who are knowledgeable about how to support their development and learning and are responsive to their individual progress Transforming the Workforce for Children Birth Through Age 8 offers guidance on system changes to improve the quality of professional practice specific actions to improve professional learning systems and workforce development and research to continue to build the knowledge base in ways that will directly advance and inform future actions The recommendations of this book provide an opportunity to improve the quality of the care and the education that children receive and ultimately improve outcomes for children
