Displacing the Anxieties of Our World Ildikó Limpár, 2017-01-06 Monster studies dystopian literature and film studies have become central to research on the now proliferating works that give voice to culture specific anxieties This new development in scholarship reinforces the notion that the genres of fantasy and science fiction call for interpretations that see their spaces of imagination as reflections of reality not as spaces invented merely to escape the real world In this vein Displacing the Anxieties of Our World discusses fictive spaces of literature film and video gaming The eleven essays that follow the Introduction are grouped into four parts I Imagined Journeys through History Gaming and Travel II Political Anxieties and Fear of Dominance III The Space of Fantastic Science and Scholarship and IV Spaces Natural and Spaces Artificial The studies produce a dialogue among disciplinary fields that bridges the imagined space between sixteenth century utopia and twenty first century dystopia with analyses penetrating fictitious spaces beyond utopian and dystopian spheres This volume argues consequently that the space of imagination that conjures up versions of the world s frustrations also offers a virtual battleground and the possibility of triumph coming from a valuable gain of cognizance once we perceive the correspondence between spaces of the fantastic and those of the mundane

Philp Pullman's His Dark Materials Leonard F. Wheat, 2010-03-05 a impressive case for multiple levels of allegory in Philip Pullman s brilliant His Dark Materials trilogy On a larger scale Wheat demonstrates in meticulous detail that Pullman s theme of the war between knowledge and religious superstition operates not only at the surface level of the plot but also at deeper symbolic levels His detailed case richly illuminates the religious and literary dimensions of the His Dark Materials trilogy

SUSANNA BRAUND Professor of Latin Poetry and Its Reception Canada Research Chair University of British

ColumbiaPhilip Pullman's His Dark Materials trilogy is one of the most popular fantasy works of our time. Both the trilogy and a new movie based on it are being marketed chiefly as YA young adult fare. But Leonard F. Wheat shows in this fascinating analysis that His Dark Materials is far more than a YA tale. At a deeper level it is a complex triple allegory, a surface story that uses 231 symbols to tell three hidden stories. As such it is among the most profound intellectually challenging and thoroughly adult works ever written. Wheat brings the hidden stories to light. He demonstrates how Pullman retells two prominent works of British literature: C. S. Lewis's The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe and John Milton's Paradise Lost. Pullman's aim is to counter Lewis's pro-Christian allegory with his own anti-Christian allegory. Pullman does this in his second allegory by turning Paradise Lost upside down: Satan and his daughter Sin, along with Adam's murderous son Cain, become heroes; God and Jesus become villains. This retold story depicts our society's warfare between knowledge symbolized by Dust and religious superstitions symbolized by Specters. Pullman adds an original third hidden story featuring Christian missionaries, Charles Darwin, agnostics, and atheists. Wheat's intriguing interpretation of Pullman's work is the first to point out the many allegorical features of His Dark Materials and to highlight the ingenious ways in which Pullman subtly attacks religious institutions and superstitions. Pullman fans as well as readers interested in fantasy or concerned about religious coercion will find Wheat's book not only stimulating but overflowing with surprises.

Leonard F. Wheat, a retired economist living in Alexandria, VA, received his PhD from Harvard University in 1958 and is the author of five previous books dealing with economics, film, and religion. His books include Kubrick's 2001: A Triple Allegory and Paul Tillich's Dialectical Humanism: Unmasking the God above God. A Country Called Childhood Jay Griffiths, 2015-11-10. While traveling the world in order to write her award-winning book Wild, Jay Griffiths became increasingly aware of the huge differences in how childhood is experienced in various cultures. One central riddle in particular captured her imagination: why are so many children in Euro-American cultures unhappy, and why is it that children in traditional cultures seem happier? In A Country Called Childhood, Griffiths seeks to discover why we deny our children the freedoms of space, time, and the natural world. Visiting communities as far apart as West Papua and the Arctic as well as the UK, and delving into history, philosophy, language, and literature, she explores how children's affinity for nature is an essential and universal element of childhood. It is a journey deep into the heart of what it means to be a child, and it is central to all our experiences, young and old.

Haunted by Christ Richard Harries, 2018-09-20. W. H. Auden, T. S. Eliot, William Golding, Elizabeth Jennings, C. S. Lewis, Flannery O'Connor, Stevie Smith. These are some of the great poets and novelists whose struggles with faith find expression in their works, and who demonstrate the fascinatingly different forms that faith can take in different times and places. Richard Harries considers the work of twenty of these writers, painting vivid pictures of their lives and times. He also provides numerous critically sympathetic insights into the spiritual dimension of their writings. The result is a book for readers of all religious persuasions, especially those who are fascinated by the ways in which faith is refracted through the lens of great poetry and fiction. Also
