Alternative Dispute Resolution in Energy Industries Mustafa Oğuz Tuna,2022-04-03 The disputes that arise between host states and investors in the energy sector put a high number of valuable and vital projects in the countries at risk Investment treaty arbitration mechanisms as the traditional remedy have provided a solution to these problems for decades However as the number of disputes increases the sufficiency of arbitration in responding to disputes became questionable in addition to the long lasting and costly cases Accordingly ADR mechanisms outside the arbitration cannon have triggered growing interest among practitioners Despite the attraction and the apparent benefits of ADR such as being cheaper faster and with better outcomes compared to arbitration there are also hurdles in front that hinder the application of ADR This has lead to the underuse of ADR in appropriate contexts This study has been conducted to research the gap for the applicability of the ADR methods for investment disputes in the energy sector with the doctrinal analysis of the existing literature either promoting or opposing ADR Its findings provide guidance for alternative dispute resolution practitioners on when to use ADR how to use ADR and on what disputes ADR to be used to resolve conflicts in International Energy Investment A Study of Barriers to the Use of Alternative Methods of Dispute Resolution ,1984 International Contracts and National

Economic Regulation:Dispute Resolution Through International Commercial Arbitration Mahmood Bagheri,2000-12-06 The growth of national economic regulation and the process of globalisation increasingly expose international transactions to an array of regulations from different jurisdictions These developments often contribute to widespread international contractual failures when parties claim the incompatibility of their contractual obligations with regulatory laws The author challenges conventional means of dispute resolution and argues for an interdisciplinary approach whereby disciplines such as international economic law conflict of laws contract law and economic regulations are functionally united to resolve international and multifaceted regulatory disputes He identifies the normative foundation of contract law as an important determinant in this process contending that contract law is essentially neutral and underpinned by the concept of corrective justice while economic regulations are mainly prompted by distributive justice Applying this corrective distributive justice dichotomy to international contracts the author critically assesses major conflict of laws approaches such as proper law the Rome Convention and governmental interest analysis which could disregard either public interest or private rights The author taking these theories into account proposes an alternative two dimensional interest analysis approach He tests the viability of this approach with reference to arbitral awards and court decisions in various jurisdictions and concludes that it uniquely fits into the structure of international commercial arbitration In adopting this approach arbitrators would take into account both corrective and distributive justice and to the extent that corrective justice prevails would be able to avert a total failure of the contract Removing the Barriers to the Use of Alternative Methods of Dispute Resolution ,1984 Alternative Methods of Dispute Resolution Frank E. A. Sander,1990 Alternative methods of dispute resolution in major disputes ,1983 Multi-Criteria Methods for Alternative Dispute Resolution Stuart S. Nagel,Miriam K. Mills,1990-12-07 This work examines the topic of dispute resolution specifically the multi criteria approach that seeks to arrive at a conclusion that is mutually beneficial to both sides Through the use of decision aiding software the multi criteria approach can allow each side to give on various criteria that are not important to it but are important to the other side In this way a super optimum solution may even be met in which both sides receive something significantly better than they had expected Such a result is very difficult if not impossible to achieve Stuart Nagel points out in traditional single dimension dispute resolution Nagel and Mills describe the nature of multi criteria dispute resolution utilizing decision aiding software The first part of the book clarifies the general character of computer aided negotiation computer aided mediation and super optimizing dispute resolution Part two guides the reader through the use of Policy Goal Percentaging P G% decision aiding software centering on general decision making negotiation mediation and prediction of outcomes Multi criteria resolution in the context of rule making and legal policy disputes is the focus of part three where such matters as determining initial alternatives and criteria resolving deadlocks and arriving at super optimum solutions are discussed Part four emphasizes dispute resolution in the context of rule applying and litigation disputes as well as mediation at the international level and between lawyers and clients The final part deals with future applications such as computer aided mediation and group decision making with phone modems The book s combination of decision aiding software arbitration mediation and super optimum expansionist decision making brings a truly innovative approach to the topic of dispute resolution This volume should be a welcome addition to academic legal and public libraries and a valuable reference work for lawyers law students and legal professors and researchers Alternative Dispute Resolution that Works Ernest G.
