and Popular Patriotism in Late Imperial Austria Laurence Cole, 2014-07-03 Military Culture and Popular Patriotism in Late Imperial Austria examines the interplay between popular patriotism and military culture in late imperial Austria Laurence Cole suggests that two main questions should be asked regarding the western half of the Habsburg Monarchy

during the period from the mid nineteenth century to the outbreak of war in 1914 Firstly how far did imperial Austrian society experience a process of militarization comparable to that of other European countries Secondly how far did the military sphere foster popular patriotism in the multinational state Various manifestations of military culture including hero cults and above all military veterans associations provide the main subject for analysis in this volume After exploring the historical development of military culture in the Habsburg Monarchy Cole explains how the long reign of Emperor Franz Joseph I constituted a decisive phase in the militarization of Austrian society with the dynasty and state emphasizing the military's role as the locus of loyalty Popular manifestations of military culture such as the hero cult surrounding Field Marshal Radetzky and military veterans associations complemented the official agenda in many respects However veterans associations in particular constituted a political mobilization of the lower middle and lower classes who asserted their own interests and position in civil society as is shown by case studies of regions of the Austrian state with significant Italian speaking populations Trentino and the Littoral State attempts to assert greater control of veterans activities led to national and political opposition at a time when tensions over militarism and foreign policy increased Military Culture and Popular Patriotism in Late Imperial Austria thus raises the question of whether the military was really a bulwark of the multinational state or rather a polarizing force in imperial Austrian society Nature Sir Norman Lockyer,1910 Autocar ,2001-02
