An African Centered Response to Ruby Payne's Poverty Theory Jawanza Kunjufu,2006      An African Centered Response to Ruby Payne's Poverty Theory Jawanza Kunjufu,2006 Challenges Ruby Payne's theories about the impact of class differences and economics on teaching and learning putting forward other factors as better predictors of student performance Kunjufu points to success stories in schools that serve low income students His refutation of Payne's popular teacher training program asserts that teacher expectations time on task and the principal's leadership are the main factors in determining educational outcomes at a school Abandoning Payne's framework of teacher student income disparities racial makeup and per pupil expenditure this critical analysis asserts the human component as the most powerful tool for improving education in failing schools From publisher description      Challenges in Health and Development Sandy A.

Johnson,2010-11-25 At the turn of the 21st century human health and economic growth are inextricably linked components of international development Challenges in Health and Development is a primer on the changing configurations of population health and economic growth in development policy It examines strategies of investing in human health and investing in economic growth as distinct approaches to development explores the symbiotic relationship of these tactics and considers the applications and outcomes from a global national and community level perspective Each chapter introduces concepts of economic development and population health and uses case studies to illustrate the same These case studies include program and policy examples from Bangladesh Chile Haiti Rwanda South Africa and Sri Lanka This text examines the impact of macroeconomic adjustment programs health care restructuring investment in primary health care public private partnerships and the challenges of program coordination and up scaling in stable and conflict ridden countries Discussion questions are provided at the end of each chapter to facilitate classroom activities health and economic growth are inextricably linked components of international development Challenges in Health and Development is a primer on the changing configurations of population health and economic growth in development policy It examines strategies of investing in human health and investing in economic growth as distinct approaches to development explores the same from a global national and community level perspective Each chapter introduces concepts of economic development and population health and uses case studies to illustrate the same These case studies include program and policy examples from Bangladesh Chile Haiti Rwanda South Africa and Sri Lanka This text examines the impact of macroeconomic adjustment programs health care restructuring investment in primary health care public private partnerships and the challenges of program coordination and up scaling in stable and conflict ridden countries Discussion questions are provided at the end of each chapter to facilitate classroom activities      "Multiplication Is for White People" Lisa Delpit,2012-03-20 From the MacArthur Award winning education reformer and author of the bestselling Other People's Children a long awaited new book on how to fix the persistent black white achievement gap in America's public schools As MacArthur Award winning educator Lisa Delpit reminds us and as all research shows there is no achievement gap at birth In her long awaited second book Delpit presents a striking picture of the elements of contemporary public education that conspire against the prospects for poor children of color creating a persistent gap in achievement during the school years that has eluded several decades of reform Delpit's bestselling and paradigm shifting first book Other People's Children focused on cultural slippage in the classroom between white teachers and students of color Now in Multiplication Is for White People Delpit reflects on two decades of reform efforts including No Child Left Behind standardized testing the creation of alternative teacher certification paths and the charter school movement that have still left a generation of poor children of color feeling that higher educational achievement isn't for them In chapters covering primary middle and high school as well as college Delpit concludes that it's not that difficult to explain the persistence of the achievement gap In her wonderful trademark style punctuated with telling classroom anecdotes and informed by time spent at dozens of schools across the country Delpit outlines an inspiring and uplifting blueprint for raising expectations for other people's children based on the simple premise that multiplication and every aspect of advanced education is for everyone

Minority High Achievement and current assessment data show children of color even those who are not poor often score lower on achievement tests than whites who are poor Culture trumps poverty in its impact on achievement Culture defines what children will focus their attention on how they interpret the world to give it meaning what background knowledge they bring to learning and how they will value that learning The focus of our interventions to close the achievement gap must therefore be to attend to the culture of the learner This book shows how to build the necessary supports to move classrooms from the traditional Eurocentric model to one that respects and incorporates the cultures of the learners
