An Introduction To Islamic Finance Arab And Islamic Laws Series:

An Introduction to Islamic Finance Muḥammad Taqī 'Uṣmānī,1998 An Introduction to Islamic Finance

Muḥammad Taqī 'Uṣmānī,2002 Although the principles of Shari'ah require banks and financial institutions to be structured on an interest free basis this does not mean that such institutions are charitable concerns As long as a person advancing money expects to share in the profits earned or losses incurred by the other party a stipulated proportion of profit is legitimate The philosophy is enshrined in the traditional Islamic concepts of musharakah and mudarabah along with their specialized modern variants murabahah ijarah salam and istisna This invaluable guide to Islamic finance clearly delineates the all important distinctions between Islamic practices and conventional procedures based on interest Justice Usmani of Pakistan who chairs several Shari'ah supervisory boards for Islamic banks clearly explains the various modes of financing used by Islamic banks and non banking financial institutions emphasizing the necessary requirements for their acceptability from the Shari'ah standpoint and the correct method for their application He deals masterfully with practical problems as they arise in the course of his presentation and offers possible solutions in each instance Shari'a Compliant Equity

Investments Rizwan Malik,2025-02-14 This book addresses two main areas of Islamic finance It examines the historical development of Shari'a screening methodologies to date and investigates how the existing Shari'a screening methodologies can be enhanced for the benefit of the Islamic banking and finance IBF industry A qualitative analysis and a statistical technique of exploratory factor analysis EFA is carried out to offer a 360 degree view of Shari'a compliant equity investments which will be of interest to Islamic finance and ethical investment scholars students and practitioners Religion and

Contract Law in Islam Valentino Cattelan,2023-08-25 What is a contract in Islam Is it an aspect of Muslim religion or of secular life How much has it changed over the centuries Undertaking a search that spans revelation legal tradition and the reality of the Muslim world this book explores the Islamic contract aqd in Arabic as a city at the crossroads of convergent paths of translation comparison and law in context In particular the book shows that only by re orienting traditional categories of Western law religion toward the East can an alternative path of discovery for the aqd be advanced Hence through a fortuitous encounter with an Arab Girl the reader will re visit the Temple of Western modernity and explore a city ruled by Towers of dialectical forces carrying a hermeneutical Ring that combines dialectics Islamic studies and media theory This interdisciplinary approach will not only enrich our knowledge of the aqd but also make it more understandable as a cultural and social construction to which both Muslims and non Muslims have participated in forging its multiple representations By inviting the readers to know who they are while looking at her the Arab Girl is already waiting for us to listen to the Islamic contract in a new way By applying a distinctive law and religion approach to the study of the contract in Islam the book provides a comprehensive exploration of a topic that is of interest to legal and economic comparatists as well as to readers in anthropology Islamic and cultural studies and it is also of topical meaning for today's international lawyers and the operators of an increasingly multicultural and transnational market Islamic Law and International Commercial Arbitration Maria Bhatti, 2018-09-27 This book examines the intersection between contemporary International Commercial Arbitration and Shari'a law in order to determine possible tensions that may arise between the two systems. It develops evidentiary and procedural rules under Shari'a as well as examining the consequences of stipulating qualifications of arbitrators based on gender and/or religion. The author extensively analyses the prohibition against interest riba and uncertainty gharar under Shari'a and its impact on arbitration agreements, arbitral awards and public policy. The book also explores the prohibition against riba in light of international conventions such as the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods. Case studies in the book include the Asian International Arbitration Centre, formerly the Kuala Lumpur Regional Centre for Arbitration and the International Islamic Centre for Reconciliation and Arbitration as well as the Shari'a Standards developed by the Accounting and Auditing Organization for Islamic Financial Institutions. The book will be a valuable resource for academics, students and practitioners working in the areas of Islamic law and the Islamic finance industry. The Islamic Debt Market for Sukuk Securities Mohamed Ariff, Munawar Iqbal, Shamsheer

Mohamad, 2012-01-01 The relatively new sukuk or Islamic debt securities markets have grown to more than US $800 billion over the past decade and continue to grow at a rate of around 20-30 per cent per year. Arguably the first of its kind, this path-breaking book provides a highly unique reference tool relating to key issues surrounding sukuk markets which are found in 12 major financial centres including Kuala Lumpur, London and Zurich. The internationally renowned contributors present an in-depth study of sukuk securities beginning with a comprehensive definition and history. They go on to discuss Islamic financial concepts and practices that govern how sukuk securities are issued, how markets are carefully regulated to protect investors and how securities are designed to safeguard invested money. The prospects and challenges of developing sukuk Islamic debt markets across the world are also illustrated. This comprehensive guide to sukuk markets will prove a fascinating and useful reference tool for academics, students, researchers and practitioners with an interest in Islamic finance and more specifically in the nascent field of sukuk securities. A Comparative Study of Islamic Finance in Australia and the UK Imran Lum, 2021-09-28 This book provides valuable insights into the practical challenges faced by the nascent Islamic finance industry and compares the Australian experience to developments in the UK. It contributes to a greater understanding of how Muslims living as a minority in Australia and the UK negotiate Islamic doctrine in secular societies by focusing on one aspect of this negotiation, namely the prohibition of riba. There is little debate in the Islamic tradition on the prohibition of riba. The differences, however, lie in the interpretation of riba and the question of how Muslims live in a society that is heavily reliant on interest and conventional banking yet at the same time adheres to Islamic guidelines. Through the words of religious leaders, Muslim professionals and university students, Imran Lum provides real accounts of how Muslims in Australia and the UK practically deal with conventional banking and finance products such as home loans, savings accounts and credit cards He also explores Muslim attitudes towards Islamic finance and queries whether religion is the sole determining factor when it comes to its uptake Drawing on his own unique experience as a practitioner responsible for growing an Islamic business in a conventional bank Lum provides a firsthand account of the complexities associated with structuring Islamic finance products that are not only sharia compliant but also competitive in a non Muslim jurisdiction Using uk k bonds as a case study he highlights the tangible and non tangible barriers to product development such as tax and regulatory requirements and the rise of Islamophobia Combining academic and industry experience Lum unpacks the relationship of Islamic finance with Muslim identity construction in the West and how certain modalities of religiosity can lead to an uptake of Islamic finance while others can lead to its rejection

The Islamic Financial System Sami Tamer,2005 This study deals with the Islamic financial system and investigates the financial instruments utilized in it Apart from the problems related to the prohibition of interest the suggested concept for the Islamic financial system could not be applied in practice Profit and Loss Sharing instruments have been utilized on a small scale so far and it would be very difficult to increase the attractiveness of these financial instruments without easing Islamic legal restrictions or at least reconsidering relevant issues from both the Islamic socio economic and ethical viewpoint as well as the position of conventional finance An improvement of efficiency may not be possible without taking a fresh look at Islamic injunctions while considering at the same time contemporary financial realities and needs such as investment opportunities risk diversification and regulatory issues

Islamic Banking and Finance Muhammad Ayub (Banker),2002 Boston University International Law Journal ,2007 Islamic Economic Studies ,2009 Arab Islamic Banking and the Renewal of Islamic Law Nicholas Dylan Ray,2024-12-02 Over the last several decades the Islamic religious movement has steadily gained importance in the Muslim world manifesting the desire to modify existing institutions so that they conform to the values of traditional Islamic culture This new book examines the application of such values to modern finance Islamic banking It also attempts to address the surprising lack of familiarity with Islamic banking among Western bankers and lawyers The Author provides a thorough overview of Islamic banking its developemty participants structure and aims goes on to study the Islamic legal contracts undelying it and finally by way of a cae study of the Faisal Islamic Bank of Egypt assesses the financial viability of Islamic banks He asserts that Arab Islamic banking is a financial system fundamentally different from the system currently dominant throughout the world and further is a viable financial phenomenon The establishment of Islamic banking which can be seen as a bold new development model for the Muslim world has necessitated immense intellectual and financial commitments as well as an empirical approach emphasizing teh adaptation of both modern finance and medieval Islamic law The text is supplemeted by translations of selected fatwas and also includes financial information on a large number of Islamic banks Gadjah Mada International Journal of Business ,2015 Islamic Law and Finance Frank E. Vogel,Samuel L. Hayes,1998-01-01 Mirroring the expansion of wealth in the Middle East and Asia and a surge in

Islamic self identity Islamic banking practices have either become the law of the land or coexist and compete with Western practices in at least six countries A growing number of institutions and mutual funds akin to Western socially responsible funds have established Islamic investment and other practices to cater to this burgeoning market Because of its prevalence practitioners in every banking related area must familiarize themselves with current Islamic finance practices in order to do business with Muslim clients and to engage in cross border financing Injunctions from the Qur'an and the sayings of Prophet Muhammed have generated a web of interrelated norms which prohibit Islamic financiers from engaging in transactions that involve interest riba and speculation gharar Islamic Law and Finance describes the dynamic set of Islamically sanctioned ways financiers can transact business Islamic Law and Finance Chibli Mallat, 2024-09-02 Since banking and financial industries in countries observing Islamic law and the Shari'a are growing fast it is essential for the West to obtain a better understanding of the interaction between Islamic law and finance As all financial business is bound by the Shari'a western lawyers and economists must consider the extent to which flexibility exists in the western system whereby the two systems western and Islamic can be brought closer together This book presents a collection of papers from distinguished authors analysing the various attempts to establish a system of Islamic law and finance and it investigates the modes of operations of institutions adopting the Islamic system drawing on examples such as Malaysia Iran and Pakistan and Egypt all of which are international and cover a large economically significant area of operations laws and taxation systems Risk Management in Islamic Finance Muhammad Al-Bashir, 2008 This study addresses derivatives instruments in Islamic finance It highlights the benefits of these instruments their legal aspects and the appropriate alternatives The forward futures and options contracts in commodity markets are discussed and the arguments in favour of and against these instruments examined The forward contracts issue includes the possibility of trading gold in forward basis the forward market for currencies and the possible alternative to manage related risks With the examination of futures contracts the main arguments against such a contract are addressed for example the sale prior to taking possession and the sale of debt hedging and speculation The study proposes khiyar al shart and bay al arbun as tools of risk management and alternatives to options The sale of pure rights is at the center of the admissibility of options in Islamic law and is investigated comprehensively Islamic Commercial Law Mohamed H. Reda, 2017-11-01 Islamic Commercial Law Contemporariness Normativeness and Competence offers new perspectives on why for centuries Islamic commercial law has been perceived as arbitrary and unpredictable and on its evolution to a contemporary consistent reliable and credible body of law The book also examines why Western positivists have viewed Islamic commercial law in a simplistic or archaic religious framework and counters those arguments with an examination of its normative legal qualities The work analyses the competencies of Fiqh jurisprudence for structuring new financial instruments and restructuring conventional financial products more equitability Index Islamicus, 2007 Risk Exposures and Lending Structures of Malaysian Banks Aisyah Abdul-Rahman, 2012
