The Story of a Musical Life Geo; F. Root,2015-09-27 Excerpt from The Story of a Musical Life An Autobiography October 1 1888 was the fiftieth anniversary of my leaving home to commence my musical life On that occasion we had a family gathering at which were commenced the series of narrations which have grown into this book They were mostly written in 1889 and that will account for the mention of the names of some people who have died since that time Special prominence could have been given in this work to the orderly arrangement of such musical statistics and items of musical history as come within its scope but such a plan would have interfered with my story as such so those matters have been allowed to come in as wanted without reference to their chronological order I do not like the appearance of self praise that I have to assume while recording in this book certain sayings and events which refer to myself and my career I hope the reader will see that my story would not be complete without them and on that ground excuse the apparent egotism About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
