Autobiography Of A Poet:

I Wanted to Write a Poem William Carlos Williams, 1978 WCW I Wanted to Write a Poem Williams discusses the procedure of poetry    Autobiography of a Poet DeLoris Williams, 2015-04-02 This is a book of this poet's life told in poetry that creates its chapters Each poem represents a moment or stage in life that moved defined or recreated the writer Poems from childhood innocence to the full grown woman it is this poet's life and her journey A powerful reflection seen through her eyes and voiced by her pen    I Wanted to Write a Poem ... The Autobiography of the Works of a Poet. Reported and Edited by Edith Heal. [With a Bibliography.] William Carlos Williams, 1958    The Real West Marginal Way: A Poet's Autobiography Richard Hugo, 1992-06-17 Of Richard Hugo's Making Certain It Goes On David Wagoner has written Richard Hugo spared himself and us no pains or joys in making the wonderful vigorous original poems brought together in this single collection His was and is a very important voice in modern American poetry Hugo was also an editor of the Yale Younger Poets series and a distinguished teacher and master of the personal essay Now many of his essays have been assembled and arranged by Ripley Hugo the poet's widow and a writer and teacher and Lois and James Welch writers and close friends of the poet Together the essays constitute a compelling autobiographical narrative that takes Hugo from his lonely childhood through the war years and his working and creative life to an interview just before his death in 1982 William Matthews also a friend of Hugo's has written an introduction    The Autobiography of William Carlos Williams William Carlos Williams, 1967 Well known Paterson New Jersey poet and physician    The Autobiography of a Yaqui Poet Refugio Savala, 1980 This is the major literary achievement of a sensitive gifted man The author is a Yaqui Indian a railroad gandy dancer who sees beauty in iron spikes and rail clamps as well as in twilight purple mountains and glossy leafed cottonwood trees In the seventy years following his flight from the Yaqui Mexican wars in Sonora Savala became a talented poet and loving recorder of his people's cultural heritage A large sampling of his original works appears in the interpretations section of this book Together with the beautifully written autobiography they offer a unique view of Arizona Yaqui culture and history railroading in the American West and the personal and artistic growth of a Native American man of letters    I Wanted to Write a Poem. The Autobiography of the Works of a Poet ... Reported and Edited by Edith Heal William Carlos WILLIAMS, 1967    A Backward Glance O'er Travel'd Roads Jack Foley, 2021-02 A Backward Glance O'er Travel'd Roads title from Whitman is a companion volume to poet Jack Foley's autobiography The Light of Evening As the autobiography treats the events of Foley's life A Backward Glance treats his intellectual history Poetry arrived in Foley's consciousness in more or less the same way that the words Saul Saul why dost thou persecute me arrived in the consciousness of the apostle Paul on the road to Damascus At the age of fifteen Foley like most of his friends thought of poetry as more or less inconsequential old fashioned dull A teacher's suggestion that he read Thomas Gray's Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard 1750 changed all that The poem seemed to me the most beautiful sound I had ever heard It affected me so deeply that I wanted it to have come out of me not out of Thomas Gray and I immediately sat down and wrote my own Gray's Elegy in the same stanzaic form and with the same rhyme scheme as the original I understood the state of mind named in Gray's Elegy to be the state of mind of poetry itself and in reacting so deeply to it I understood myself to be a poet On the face of it it seemed like an extremely unlikely event Thomas Gray was an English poet a letter writer a Classical scholar and a professor at Pembroke College Cambridge Foley was an ambitious Irish Italian working class kid who was aware of what the British had done to the Irish Yet at such life changing moments none of that mattered To be a poet meant to change your life The fifteen year old half Irish child suddenly transformed himself into an adult eighteenth century British formalist From there Foley began to interrogate the entire history of poetry The story of Foley's spiritual history is the story of his finding what Wallace Stevens called what will suffice The range of his mind moved into radical poetic innovation as well as into deeply traditional modes and a recognition of the legacy of Modernism At age eighty Foley has led a unique life as a writer performer of poetry a radio host and an all around West Coast gadfly of the poetic establishment If you want the interesting events of his life read The Light of Evening If you want the life of his mind read A Backward Glance Over Travel'd Roads     Goethe's

Poetry and Autobiography Jo Gill,Melanie Waters,2013-12-16 This collection makes a critical and creative intervention into ongoing debates about the relationship between poetry and autobiography Drawing on recent theories of life writing the essays in the first part of this volume provide new analyses of works by a range of poets dating from the early modern period to the present day Exploring the autobiographical resonances of poems by Martha Moulsorth Mina Loy Anne Sexton Joe Brainard Edward Kamau Braithwaite and Gwyneth Lewis the authors here examine the extent to which discourses of truth and authenticity have been implicated in traditional interpretations of lyric poetry In doing so they endeavour to illuminate the complex intersections and divergences of poetry and autobiography asking what these forms might learn from each other about issues of shared concern from questions of identity and textuality to those of reference and audience The creative reflections which form the second part of the collection develop and respond to these questions in various suggestive and original ways here poetry and prose are used in order to test the relationship between poetry and life writing and to explore issues of memory time place subjectivity and voice This book was published as a special issue of Life Writing     Self-Interviews James Dickey,1984-03-01 In Self Interviews James Dickey speaks thoughtfully and with candor of his life as a poet He recalls how poetry came to be his career tracing its growing importance in his life from his youth in Georgia through his years overseas with the Air Force as a student at Vanderbilt as a teacher and as a successful advertising executive He also tells of how he reworked the life around him into poetry of the fleeting impressions and lingering thoughts that were the seeds of some of his finest poems including Cherrylog Road The Lifeguard The Fiend and Falling Following only a rough outline Dickey recorded these spontaneous monologues in June 1968 not long after the publication of his Poems 1957-1967 which collected the work from his first five books These musings then date from what was in many ways a natural vantage point on his artistic development a moment ripe for recollection and analysis Dickey uses the occasion not only to look back on his career but also to consider his preferences and goals as a poet I would like to be able to write a poetry he reveals that would have something for every level of mind something that would be accessible to a child and would also give college professors and professional critics something maybe something they haven t had much of recently or indeed ever This book is not so much the autobiography of a poet as it is the biography of a poet s work Unique and revealing Self Interviews is an intimate profile of a decade in the art of one of America s finest poets

The Light of Evening Jack Foley,2021 Jack Foley has been prominent in the San Francisco Bay Area poetry scene since the mid 1980s The Light of Evening traces the arc of his life since his birth in New Jersey in 1940 Foley has spent his life in the pursuit of ways to continue writing poetry in a world in which the status of poetry has been seriously diminished This candid autobiography offers a portrait of an artist who has continued to produce experimental as well as traditional work and who created theoretical underpinnings for that work His exciting choruses duets performed with his late wife Adelle established him as a unique presenter of poetry in an area in which poets abound Along with his creative work Foley studied at Cornell with the brilliant and notorious deconstructionist critic Paul de Man He lived through the 1960s in and around Berkeley California attending the university at the height of the Free Speech Movement Following on the heels of Kenneth Rexroth he has presented poetry on KPFA FM Berkeley s radical radio station for over thirty years He produced a 1300 page history of Californian poetry from 1940 to 2005 that has been called an oddball masterpiece the first adequate account of California s complex and contradictory literary life At eighty Foley looks back at a life in which he managed to maintain himself as a contrarian poet who never resorted to the academy for sustenance and who never courted fame from the East Coast literary hegemony The Light of Evening is the story of a complex always in motion public intellectual for whom poetry was first last and always

Poetry and Autobiography Jo Gill,Melanie Waters,2011 This collection makes a critical and creative intervention into ongoing debates about the relationship between poetry and autobiography Drawing on recent theories of life writing the essays and reflections in this volume offer new analyses of works by a range of poets dating from the early modern period to the present day This book was published as a special issue of Life Writing

Lucky Poet Hugh MacDiarmid,1972 My Lost Poets Philip Levine,2016-11-08 Essays speeches and journal entries from one of our most admired and best loved poets that illuminate how he came to understand himself as a poet the events and people that he wrote about and the older poets who influenced him In prose both as superbly rendered as his poetry and as down to earth and easy as speaking Levine reveals the things that made him the poet he became In the title essay originally the final speech of his poet laureate year he recounts how as a boy he composed little speeches walking in the night woods near his house and how he later realized these were his first poems He wittily takes on the poets he studied with in the Iowa Writing Program John Berryman who was his great teacher and lifelong friend and Robert Lowell who was neither His deepest influences jazz Spain the working people of Detroit are reflected in many of the pieces There are essays on Spanish poets he admires William Carlos Williams Wordsworth Keats and others A wonderful moving collection of writings that add to our knowledge and appreciation of Philip Levine both the man and the poet I Wonder as I

Wander Langston Hughes,2015-10-13 The most dramatic and intimate moments of Langston Hughes s life in the turbulent 1930s The second volume of his autobiography following The Big Sea Langston Hughes picks up where he left off in The Big Sea which focused on his early life and involvement in the Harlem Renaissance In this sequel his wanderlust leads him to Cuba Haiti Russia Soviet Central Asia Japan Spain during its Civil War through dictatorships wars revolutions He meets and brings to life the famous and the humble from Arthur Koestler to Emma the Black Mammy of Moscow It is the continuously amusing wise revelation of an American writer journeying around the often strange and always exciting world he loves The Big Sea and I Wonder as I Wander are among the wisest warmest and most informative books to issue from Langston s pen and by that to say from the Renaissance or any other literary movement Amiri Baraka former poet laureate of New Jersey and author of Black Music An immensely interesting book The New Yorker To Be the Poet Maxine Hong

Kingston,2009-06-30 I have almost finished my longbook Maxine Hong Kingston declares Let my life as Poet begin I won t be a workhorse anymore I ll be a skylark To Be the Poet is Kingston s manifesto the avowal and declaration of a writer who has devoted a good part of her sixty years to writing prose and who over the course of this spirited and inspiring book works out what the rest of her life will be in poetry
