Being Human Distinctiveness Disability Disposal:

Sensing the Divine Michael N. Marsh, 2021-08-10 This book proposes another unique basis for the origins of religion from disturbances in brain function It proposes the novel idea that near death and out of body experiences ND OBE engendered a sense of the divine in ancient man As the author points out key aspects of ND OBE are thematic of all later established religions These include journeys to heaven sightings of brightly lit godlike figures and dead people now alive Thus ND OBE could be the originating source of these spiritual motifs To this the author adds a fourth factor various brain influences contribute to or modulate ND OBE Such cognate neurological disorders include REM sleep intrusions sleep paralysis narcolepsy and the Guillain Barr syndrome Errors due to aberrant switching between key neural control centers disrupt critical state boundaries between consciousness and dreaming This may induce NDE Thus in this state subjects temporarily fail to understand where they are undergo loss of self and detached from the world They imagine a union with Gods Here then is the biological basis of ineffability Ancient humans gained beliefs about the supernatural through day to day existence This book argues that near death experiences and cognate neurological conditions some genetically determined could have facilitated even augmented such beliefs Hence in configuring another realm of spiritual experience beyond the known environment these neurological possibilities offer effective traction The Evolution of Religion,

Religiosity and Theology Jay R. Feierman, Lluís Oviedo, 2019-09-11 This book takes a multi dimensional and multi disciplinary approach to religion religiosity and theology from their earliest beginnings to the present day It uniquely brings together the natural sciences and theology to explore how religious practice emerged and developed through the four sections into which the book is organized Evolutionary biology Philosophical linguistics psychology and neuroscience Theology and Anthropology The volume features an international panel of contributors who develop an innovative picture of religion as a culturally created social institution religiosity as a more personal and subjective anthropological element of people expressed through religion and theology as the study of god To survive in changing times living systems a good characterization of religion religiosity and theology all must adaptively evolve This is a vital study of a rapidly burgeoning field As such it will be of great interest to scholars in religious studies and theology as well as in the psychological sociological and anthropological study of religion On Being Human Michael N.
