Every backbone needs a spine Meet Whyte Money Dude Dent Goldie and Puncho and the women who love them These five men are running the streets of Atlanta and these women are reaping the benefits and suffering the consequences at the same time People on the outside only see them as the pretty faces on their arm But these women are strong they are not only wives they are mothers they are best friends business owners and the shoulders that these men cry on In the blink of an eye everything can change Things go from good to bad to worst What happens when someone wants the top and don't want to work for it What happens when you figure out that you don't love your mate after all What happens when you find out you are the one cheating and not the one getting cheated on Friendships are tested loyalty disappears and as always envy and greed show up Meet the Real Block Wives of Atlanta Torches of Light Ann Short Chirhart, 2005 As turbulent social and economic changes swept the South in the first half of the twentieth century education became the flashpoint Ann Short Chirhart's study is the first to analyze such modernizing events in Georgia She shows how these changes affected the creation of the state's public school system and cast its teachers in a crucial role as mediators between transformation and tradition Depicting Georgia's steps toward modernity through teachers' professional and cultural work and the educational reforms they advocated Chirhart presents a unique perspective on the convergence of voices across the state calling for reform or continuity secularism or theology equality or enforced norms consumption or self-reliance Although most teachers black and white shared backgrounds rooted in localism and evangelical Protestantism attitudes about race and gender kept them apart African American teachers individually and collectively redefined traditional beliefs to buttress ideals of racial uplift and to press for equal access to public services White women adapted similar beliefs in different ways to enhance their efforts to train greater numbers of white students for professional and wage labor Torches of Light is based on such sources as government archives manuscript collections and interviews with teachers As Chirhart examines the ideas over which Georgians clashed she also shows how those ideas were embodied in New Deal and U.S. Department of Agriculture programs the political activities of the black Georgia Teachers and Educators Association and the Georgia legislature's 1949 Minimum Foundation Act. Through two world wars and the Great Depression, teachers sought to reconcile clashing beliefs, not only to renegotiate class, race, and gender roles but also to enhance their own professionalism and authority. Gas Age, 1910. Includes summaries of proceedings and addresses of annual meetings of various gas associations. God, Marriage, and Family (Second Edition) Andreas J. Köstenberger, David W. Jones, 2010-05-05. The release of the landmark first edition of God, Marriage, and Family provided an integrated biblical treatment of God's purposes for the home. Since then, explain authors Andreas Köstenberger and David Jones, the crisis confronting modern households has only intensified, and yet the solution remains the same: obedience to and application of God's Word. In the second edition of God, Marriage, and Family, Köstenberger and Jones explore the latest controversies, cultural shifts, and teachings within both the church and society, and further apply Scripture's timeless principles to contemporary issues. This new edition includes an assessment of the family-integrated church movement, discussion of recent debates on corporal punishment, singleness, homosexuality, and divorce, and new sections on the theology of sex and the parenting of teens, and updated bibliographies. This book will prove to be a valuable resource for personal and group study, Christian counseling, and marriage and family courses. Harper's Round Table, 1895. Harper's Young People, 1894. Whittle, Philip S. Johnston, 2017-06-15. Family life has undergone revolutionary changes in Western society in the last sixty years, posing both theological and ethical challenges for the contemporary church. This book responds with wide-ranging essays on sexuality, marriage, family life, singleness, same-sex relationships, violence against women, anthropology, gender, and culture. These chapters are essential reading for anyone concerned with Christian teaching on marriage and the family. They balance a clear loyalty to the church's historic and biblical teaching with a recognition that all doctrine is contextualized. There is a growing gap between the ethics of many Christians and those of wider society. So Christians have to be counter-cultural. But the church also has to be self-critical, differentiating between biblical revelation and cultural development. And it must know how to present unchanging Christian convictions to a constantly changing society. The contributors are Andy Angel, Daniel Block, Rosalind Clarke, Barry Danylak, Andrew Goddard, Stephen Holmes, David Instone-Brewer, A. T. B. McGowan, Nicholas Moore, Onesimus Ngundu, Oliver O'Donovan, Ian Paul, Andrew Sloane, Katy Smith, Elaine Storkey, and Sarah Whittle. The New York Times Index, 1915.
