'Authentic' Knight Identities and 'Ideal' Depictions of Chivalry between c.1350- c.1410 in France Georgia

Parkes-Russell,2021-06-15 Master s Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Literature Medieval Literature grade 1st University of Chester course MA History language English abstract Using fictional and factual literature the dissertation attempts to understand the multiplicity of masculinity and individual knightly motivations caused by competing factual and fictional depictions of chivalry Overall histories of chivalry and masculinity between c 1350 c 1410 in France have been treated singularly The ideal qualities of chivalry have been treated as the reality for all knights when in fact chivalric ideologies were unique to individuals and overlapped in both factual and fictional literature of the period Chivalry in the Middle Ages has often been defined as the religious and moral system of behavior that the perfect knight was expected to follow However singular definitions of chivalry should be disregarded because displays of medieval masculinity and chivalry were a complicated mixture of social conditions institutional influence and individual motivation    The Development of Arthurian Romance Roger Sherman Loomis,2012-11-13 Stimulating and masterly study examines the evolution of the great mass of fiction surrounding the Arthurian legend in Western literature from Geoffrey of Monmouth s History of the Kings of Britain and the collection of Welsh tales known as The Mabinogion to Chr tien de Troyes Arthurian stories the Parzival of Wolfram von Eschenbach and such English masterpieces as Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Le Morte d Arthur Painstakingly researched and brimming with scholarly insight this highly readable and entertaining work will be a favorite with general audiences as well as scholars and students of the Arthurian legend    Notes and Queries William John Thoms,2004
