Mac McClelland

Bed Bath And Beyond Tea Kettle:

Home Making Lee Matalone,2020-02-18 An intricate exploration of family and home of mother and child of friends of women and written with both precision and style Weike Wang author of Chemistry From a talented powerful new voice in fiction comes a stunning novel about the intersection of three lives coming to grips with identity family legacy and what it means to make a house a true home Cybil is a war child the result of a brief affair between a young Japanese woman and a French soldier who at a young age is transplanted to Tucson Arizona and raised by an American officer and his rigid wife After a rebellious adolescence she grows up to become a successful ob gyn Chloe Cybil s daughter is adrift in an empty house in the hills of Virginia Her marriage has fallen apart and her estranged husband is dying of cancer Room by room Chloe makes her new house into a home grappling always with the real and imagined boundaries that limit her as a single childless woman in contemporary America Beau Chloe s closest friend is in love with a man he s only met on the internet who lives across the country Shepherding Chloe through her grief he is often called back to his loud humid chaotic childhood in Southwest Louisiana where he first reckoned with the intricate ties between queerness loneliness and place Through each of these characters Matalone weaves a moving beautiful narrative of home identity and belonging Home Making is a somber yet hopeful ode to the stories we tell ourselves in order to make a family

The Archivist Rex Pickett,2021-11-09 A November

Book Pick from The New York Times When archivist Nadia Fontaine is found dead of an apparent drowning Emily Snow is hired by Regents University to finish the job she started to organize and process the papers of Raymond West a famous Pulitzer Prize winning author who has been short listed for the Nobel Emily s job comes with its inherent pressures West s wife Elizabeth is an heiress who s about to donate 25 million to the Memorial Library an eight story architectural marvel that is the crown jewel of the university The inaugural event in just a few months will be a gala for the who s who of San Diego to celebrate the unveiling of the Raymond West Collection and the financial gift that made it all possible As Emily sets to work on the West papers it begins to dawn on her that several items have gone missing from the collection To trace their whereabouts she gains unsupervised access to the highly restricted dark archives in which she opens a Pandora s box of erotically and intellectually charged correspondence between Raymond West and the late Nadia Fontaine Through their archived emails Emily goes back a year in time and relives the tragic trajectory of their passionate love affair Did Nadia really drown accidentally as the police report concluded or could it have been suicide or even worse murder Compelled to complete the collection and find the truth Emily unwittingly morphs into an adult Nancy Drew and a one woman archivist crusader on a mission to right the historical record Twisting slowly like a tourniquet The Archivist turns into a suspenseful murder mystery with multiple and intersecting layers Not just a whodunit it is also a profound meditation on love privacy and the ethics of destroying or preserving materials of a highly personal nature

Irritable Hearts Mac McClelland, 2015-02-24

In 2010 human rights reporter Mac McClelland left Haiti after covering the devastation of the earthquake Back home she finds herself imagining vivid scenes of violence and can't sleep or stop crying It becomes clear that she is suffering from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder triggered by her trip and seemingly exacerbated by her experiences in the other charged places she'd reported from The bewilderment about this sudden loss of self control is magnified by her feelings for Nico a French soldier she met in Haiti who despite their brief connection seems to have found a place in her confused heart With fearlessness McClelland sets out to repair her broken psyche
