Lattuca,1996 Performed Disciplines/ Collaborative Disciplines Courtne N. Wolfgang,2011 Abstract This doctoral study concerns itself with the challenges and potentials of engaging in interdisciplinary collaborations in higher education As a participant researcher in the study I was a member of a cohort of three graduate student teaching associates that engaged in mindful examinations of our disciplinary subjectivities and the processes of becoming interdisciplinary Further the cohort explored the tensions of being disciplinary subjects and through narrative and visual arts based practices made attempts to alleviate some of those tensions I suggest that one might engage in strong interdisciplinary work by allowing oneself to depart somewhat from codes of disciplinary identity I use the word departure meaning a different approach not to suggest an exodus from disciplinary identity or practice but acknowledge the advantages of the codes of a discipline that serve to ground one s identity and practice The theorizing of such a departure is significantly informed by both Feminist theory and the work of Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari In order to understand the process of becoming interdisciplinary the methodology of the study includes three group interviews the sharing of individual disciplinary approaches to curriculum and participant reflections on the proceedings of the study These methods were employed to help answer the primary research question which is What are the potentials of changed disciplinary performance and identity resultant from mindful interdisciplinary collaboration Using a content analysis approach I identified emergent questions through which the findings of the study were also analyzed Those emergent questions are 1 What are the tensions associated with disciplinary performance in regard to student expectations of the discipline 2 How might interdisciplinary collaboration alleviate tensions or limitations embedded in a disciplinary identity 3 How does an interdisciplinary body perform I consider the affective investments the participants have in their disciplinary identities the usefulness of the discipline and the potentials for renegotiated disciplinary identity in regard to pedagogy I also call for future research in the areas of interdisciplinary transdisciplinary and post disciplinary practices that might create more vibrant learning communities

UFOs and Abductions David Michael Jacobs,2000 Examining the nature of UFO evidence the authors present a primer for scholars skeptics and others uneasy about investigating the field of UFOs The volume also brings together three bestselling authors David M Jacobs Budd Hopkins and Pulitzer Prize winner John Mack widely known for their writings on the controversial alien abduction phenomenon On Becoming Responsible Michael S. Pritchard,1991 Pritchard provides a deliberate and convincing argument for a starting point for the discussion of moral development on in which self regard and empathy provide equally essential groundings for individual morality Drawing essential elements from the work of Reid Strawson Rawls Kohlberg and Gilligan he builds a comprehensive framework for tracing moral development from childhood one that allows human morality to be grounded in both reason and emotion and that recognizes the importance to morality of justice and rights as well as caring and responsibility

Becoming John Dewey Thomas Carlyle Dalton,2002-09-11 Dewey s relationships with F M Alexander Henri Matisse Niels Bohr Myrtle McGraw and Lawrence K Frank among others show how he dispersed pragmatism throughout American thought and culture Dewey s pragmatist successors are considered along with ways for contemporary philosophy to remain true to the Deweyan spirit of experimentation Jacket

Annual Report University of Minnesota,2007 After Poststructuralism Nancy Easterlin,Barbara Riebling,1993 After Poststructuralism Interdisciplinary and Literary Theory challenges the premises of and suggests new alternatives to the more extreme approaches in current literary theory The essays collected here examine the trend of theorizing in interdisciplinary studies from the perspective of more rigorous research methodologies with the aim of establishing the validity of interdisciplinary literary studies and broadening the field of inquiry The collection is divided into three groups The first examines the question of what interdisciplinarity has meant in literary studies in the last twenty years the reasons for its ascension as a trend and the inherent theoretical flaws in certain poststructuralist positions The second explores the relationship of theory and practice while the third group looks ahead to the rich possibilities for thinking and working in practical new directions
