Bridging The Literacy Achievement Gap Grades 4-12 Language And Literacy Series:

Bridging the Literacy Achievement Gap, Grades 4-12 Dorothy S. Strickland, Donna E. Alvermann, 2004-05-26 This book addresses critical issues related to pre adolescent and adolescent literacy learners with a focus on closing the achievement gap. Despite efforts by educators and policymakers during the past several decades certain groups of students primarily African American students English language learners and students from low income homes continue to underperform on commonly used measures of academic achievement. Too often teachers and administrators lack both proper preparation and good ideas to confront these issues. (Re)imagining Content-area Literacy Instruction Roni Jo Draper, Gordon Paul Broomhead, 2010-09-23 Today's teachers need to prepare students for a world that places increasingly higher literacy demands on its citizens. In this timely book the authors explore content area literacy and instruction in English music science mathematics social studies visual arts technology and theatre. Each of the chapters has been written by teacher educators who are experts in their discipline. Their key recommendations reflect the aims and instructional frameworks unique to content area learning. This resource focuses on how literacy specialists and content area educators can combine their talents to teach all readers and writers in the middle and secondary school classroom. The text features vignettes from classroom practice with visuals to demonstrate for example how we read a painting or hear the discourse of a song. School Discourse Frances Christie, Beverly Derewianka, 2010-09-17 Envisioning Knowledge Judith A. Langer, 2015-04-17 This book by Judith Langer internationally known scholar in literacy learning examines how people gain knowledge and become academically literate in the core subjects of English mathematics science and social studies history. Based on extensive research it offers a new framework for conceptualizing knowledge development rather than information collection and explores how one becomes literate in ways that mark knowing in a field. Langer identifies key principles for practice and demonstrates how the framework and the principles together can undergird highly successful instruction across the curriculum. With many examples from middle and high schools this resource will help educators to plan and implement engaging exciting and academically successful programs. Change Is Gonna Come Patricia A. Edwards, Gwendolyn Thompson McMillon, Jennifer D. Turner, 2015-04-17 While many books decry the crisis in the schooling of African American children they are often disconnected from the lived experiences and work of classroom teachers and principals. In this book the authors look back to move forward providing specific practices that K-12 literacy educators can use to transform their schools. The text addresses four major debates: the fight for access to literacy supports and roadblocks to success; best practices theories and perspectives on teaching African American students and the role of African American families in the literacy lives of their children. Throughout the authors highlight the valuable lessons learned from the past and include real stories from their own diverse family histories and experiences as teachers parents and community members. Writing Assessment and the Revolution in Digital Texts and Technologies Michael R. Neal, 2015-04-17 This text provides an innovative new framework for the formative and holistic assessment of students digital writing It also addresses the rapid evolution of writing assessment tools analyzing the research in clear terms for both techno phobic and techno savvy teachers The author critiques computer automated scoring of student writing for example but also considers the possibilities and potential of the future of technology assisted assessments
