Brieven Aan Familie En Vrienden 19191941:

Silenced Voices Inez Hollander, 2008 Like a number of Netherlands in the post World War II era Inez Hollander only gradually became aware of her family's connections with its Dutch colonial past including a Creole great grandmother For the most part such personal stories have been if not entirely silenced at least only whispered about in Holland where society has remained uncomfortable with many aspects of the country's relationship with its colonial empire Unlike the majority of memoirs that are soaked in nostalgia for tempo dulu Hollander's story sets out to come to grips with her family's past by weaving together personal records with historical and literary accounts of the period She seeks not merely to locate and preserve family memories but also to test them against a more disinterested historical record Hers is a complicated and sometimes painful personal journey of realization unusually mindful of the ways in which past memories and present considerations can be intermingled when we seek to understand a difficult past Silenced Voices is an important contribution to the literature on how Dutch society has dealt with its recent colonial history

Postcolonial Netherlands Gert

Oostindie, 2011 The Netherlands is home to one million citizens with roots in the former colonies Indonesia Suriname and the Antilles Entitlement to Dutch citizenship pre migration acculturation in Dutch language and culture as well as a strong rhetorical argument We are here because you were there were strong assets of the first generation This postcolonial bonus indeed facilitated their integration In the process the initial distance to mainstream Dutch culture diminished Postwar Dutch society went through serious transformations Its once lily white population now includes two million non Western migrants and the past decade witnessed heated debates about multiculturalism The most important debates about the postcolonial migrant communities center acknowledgement and the inclusion of colonialism and its legacies in the national memorial culture This resulted in state sponsored gestures ranging from financial compensation to monuments The ensemble of such gestures reflect a guilt ridden and inconsistent attempt to do justice to the colonial past and to Dutch citizens with colonial roots Postcolonial Netherlands is the first scholarly monograph to address these themes in an internationally comparative framework Upon its publication in the Netherlands 2010 the book elicited much praise but also serious objections to some of the author's theses such as his prediction about the diminishing relevance of postcolonial roots

Publisher's description

The Lion and the Gadfly Paul van der Veur, 2021-12-28 This political biography reveals the turbulent life of Ernest François Eugène Douwes Dekker son of a Dutch father and a German Javanese mother born on Java in 1879 Vignettes flow in novel like fashion from the battle fields of South Africa and internment camp in Sri Lanka to a career in journalism in Java Radical thoughts then enter Douwes Dekker's mind such as demands for racial equality and national independence These made him write presciently that this road might take him to the executioner's hand or to the victory of revolution In exile from 1913 on his bravado allowed him to enter a doctoral program at the University of Zurich but also to entanglement with Indian revolutionaries operating from Berlin Returning to Java at the end of World War I he once again propagated the virtues of nationalism but soon was forced to relinquish his efforts and start a teaching career Even here constant surveillance and eventual internment in Surinam were his lot Within a decade the Republic of Indonesia had been proclaimed and Douwes Dekker emerged to acclaim as a close friend and political adviser to President Soekarno

Engineers of Happy Land Rudolf Mrázek,2018-06-05 Based on close reading of historical documents poetry as much as statistics and focused on the conceptualization of technology this book is an unconventional evocation of late colonial Netherlands East Indies today Indonesia In considering technology and the ways that people use and think about things Rudolf Mr zek invents an original way to talk about freedom colonialism nationalism literature revolution and human nature The central chapters comprise vignettes and take up in turn transportation from shoes to road building to motorcycle clubs architecture from prison construction to home air conditioning optical technologies from photography to fingerprinting clothing and fashion and the introduction of radio and radio stations The text clusters around a group of fascinating recurring characters representing colonialism nationalism and the awkward inevitable presence of the European cultural intellectual and political avant garde Tillema the pharmacist author of Kromoblanda the explorer engineer IJzerman the Javanese princess Kartina the Indonesia nationalist journalist Mas Marco the Dutch novelist Couperus the Indonesian novelist Pramoedya Ananta Toer and Dutch left wing liberal Wim Wertheim and his wife In colonial Indies as elsewhere people employed what Proust called remembering and what Heidegger called thinging to sense and make sense of the world In using this observation to approach Indonesian society Mr zek captures that society off balance allowing us to see it in unfamiliar positions The result is a singular work with surprises for readers throughout the social sciences not least those interested in Southeast Asia or colonialism more broadly

Beekman,1996 This is the first comprehensive examination of Dutch colonial literature in English From the journals and travelogues produced by the early mariners to the fictional recollections of repatriated colonials after the Second World War E M Beekman s unique and magisterial survey of this major colonial literature places literary figures within specific epochs provides biographical portraits and examines works in relation not only to their own genres but also to the literatures and cultures beyond their colonial borders Written by the leading authority in the field this fascinating and wide ranging study is enhanced by a consideration of the general political history of European expansion and of the Dutch East Indies Anthropologica ,2002 Includes reports of meetings of the institute Brieven W. Walraven,1966 Two Tales of the East Indies E. M. Beekman,1983 For centuries women who have lived in inhospitable regions have displayed enormous courage resourcefulness self sufficiency and determination in their daily lives The Last House in the World is an autobiographical novel based on the author s life on the island of Buru in the Moluccas Beb Vuyk lived in a very remote area in a house so isolated that it seemed at the edge of the world Vuyk is particularly effective in describing the loneliness of frontier existence for women and the emotional cost of daily confrontations with what in more civilized areas would be considered extraordinary events and dangers Ultimately although the protagonist feels physically and emotionally constrained by her regenerative powers i e the ability to conceive and nurture life it is these very powers that enable her to be victorious in life s most awesome confrontation the struggle with death The author of many fictional stories Vuyk published her first novel Thousand Islands in 1937 Writing from personal experience H J Friedericy provides in The Counselor a rare glimpse of life in the outlying districts an existence that was quite different from that on Java Friedericy entered the colonial service in the Dutch East Indies at the age of twenty one and held a number of administrative positions All his writings concern southern Celebes where he was stationed during the first years of his career Written in 1958 The Counselor is Friedericy s last work of fiction It recalls life on Celebes during the 1920s when the Dutch were struggling to impose what they considered an enlightened colonial administration on the remnants of a feudal system they had nearly destroyed The novel is written in a style of detached curiosity and portrays the relationship of a young Dutch government official with an older and wiser administrator the Counselor of the title The story describes the numerous events and crises that confront the younger man in the course of his duties

Max Havelaar, Or, The Coffee Auctions of the Dutch Trading Company Multatuli,1982

Based on episodes in the life of Multatuli the story builds contrapuntally on the opposition between the materialistic coffee broker Drystubble and the idealistic protagonist who is martyred for his struggle against the injustices of the colonial administration Page 4 of cover

Faded Portraits Robert Nieuwenhuys,1982 A fictionalized memoir of family life in former colonial Dutch East Indies Faded Portraits is the story of the once powerful DePaulys and especially of Aunt Sophie the matriarch whose efforts to preserve the family heritage the purity of the Dutch bloodline and culture prove inevitably tragic The forms to which aunt Sophie clings and which she seeks to impose on her family represent an arrogant blindness to the personal needs of others and to the cruelties of the colonial system and underscore the struggles of displaced people who must accept the eclipse of their way of life The book is reminiscent of the literature of the American South of the novels of William Faulkner Flannery O Connor John Crowne Ransom Robert Penn Warren That too was colonial literature wistfully determined to record an era that was passing
