Communication Skills John Graves, 2014-11-29 Being able to communicate effectively is the most important of all life skills. Communication is simply the act of transferring information from one place to another, whether this be vocally using voice, written using printed or digital media such as books, magazines, websites or emails, visually using logos, maps, charts or graphs, or non verbally using body language, gestures and the tone and pitch of voice. Effective communication skills are fundamental to success in many aspects of life. Many jobs require strong communication skills and socially, people with improved communication skills usually enjoy better interpersonal relationships with friends and family. Effective communication is a key interpersonal skill and by learning how we can improve our communication, it has many benefits. Communication is a two way process so improving communication involves both how we send and receive messages.
