Dogs vs. Cats

Have you tried to decide if your next pet should be a cat or a dog? The answer is simple! Dogs are much better pets than cats.

There is no better feeling than coming home from a long day to a dog waiting at the door for you with its tail wagging. Dogs are loving and loyal pets. Cats are usually independent and like to be left alone.

Another reason why dogs are better pets than cats is dogs can protect you from danger. Dogs are defensive and will go great lengths to protect a human in their pack. On the other hand, cats are not protective. They will run from any danger.

Additionally, dogs are better pets than cats because they can help keep you active and fit. Unlike cats, dogs need regular walks and play time. This helps keep their owners active and in shape.

If you are wondering if a dog or a cat is the perfect pet for you, the answer is simple. Dogs are the most loyal, protective, and fun pet you could get.

Answer the following questions. Underline the text evidence in the color indicated.

1. What is the author's point of view about the topic?
The author believes dogs are better pets than cats.

2. What three reasons does the author give for their point of view?
Dogs are loving & loyal.
Dogs protect you.
Dogs keep you active & fit.

With recent changes in the curriculum and standards in language arts and mathematics, parents often are challenged to find ways to help their children be successful in their learning endeavors. While parents want to be involved in their children's education, they are often unsure of their role in their children's learning and the best ways to help their children to succeed academically. Moreover, with the changes in how math and literacy are being taught, parents often struggle with helping even first-grade children with their homework. In this book, we set out to alleviate this struggle by offering parents a resource they can use to navigate their child's education, communicate with teachers, and support their children in learning mathematics and literacy. After providing an overview of the current educational climate and tips for communication with teachers, we share strategies and suggestions parents can use to assist their children in language arts and mathematics. We provide detailed descriptions of activities, games, books, and conversations that connect with what children will be learning at each grade level. McGraw-Hill Reading Practice, Grade 4 McGraw-Hill (Firm), 2001-05
