Security Kan Zhang, Yuliang Zheng, 2004-09-21 The 2004 Information Security Conference was the seventh in a series that started with the Information Security Workshop in 1997 A distinct feature of this series is the wide coverage of topics with the aim of encouraging interaction between researchers in different aspects of information security This trend continued in the program of this year's conference The program committee received 106 submissions from which 36 were selected for presentation Each submission was reviewed by at least three experts in the relevant research area We would like to thank all the authors for taking their time to prepare the submissions and we hope that those whose papers were declined will be able to find an alternative forum for their work We were fortunate to have an energetic team of experts who took on the task of the program committee Their names may be found overleaf and we thank them warmly for their time and efforts This team was helped by an even larger number of external reviewers who reviewed papers in their particular areas of expertise A list of these names is also provided which we hope is complete We would also like to thank the advisory committee for their advice and support

The excellent local arrangements were handled by Dirk Balfanz and Jessica Staddon We made use of the electronic submission and reviewing software supplied by COSIC at the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven Both the software and the ISC 2004 website were run on a server at UNC Charlotte and were perfectly maintained by Seung Hyun Im We also appreciate assistance from Lawrence Teo in editing the proceedings Information Technology for Management Efraim Turban, Carol Pollard, Gregory Wood, 2018-01-31 Information technology is ever changing and that means that those who are working or planning to work in the field of IT management must always be learning In the new edition of the acclaimed Information Technology for Management the latest developments in the real world of IT management are covered in detail thanks to the input of IT managers and practitioners from top companies and organizations from around the world Focusing on both the underlying technological developments in the field and the important business drivers performance growth and sustainability the text will help students explore and understand the vital importance of IT's role vis à vis the three components of business performance improvement people processes and technology The book also features a blended learning approach that employs content that is presented visually textually and interactively to enable students with different learning styles to
