

current flow is in the direction shown by the arrow on the probe. True current readings may be obtained by using an appropriate true current reading multimeter.

This instrument is designed to be safe under the following conditions:

- Bimodal usage
 - altitude up to 21000m
 - Temperature 0°C to +50°C

- maximum relative humidity 80% for temperatures up to 31°C decreasing linearly to 40% relative humidity at 50°C.

Use of the probe on uninsulated conductors is limited to 300V rms or dc, and frequencies below 1kHz.

Safety in the use is the responsibility of the operator who must be a suitably qualified or authorised person.

On the basis of the results of the present study, it is proposed that the first part of the profile, including the first 100 m of the profile, should be considered as the 'local' part of the profile, and the last 100 m as the 'regional' part of the profile.

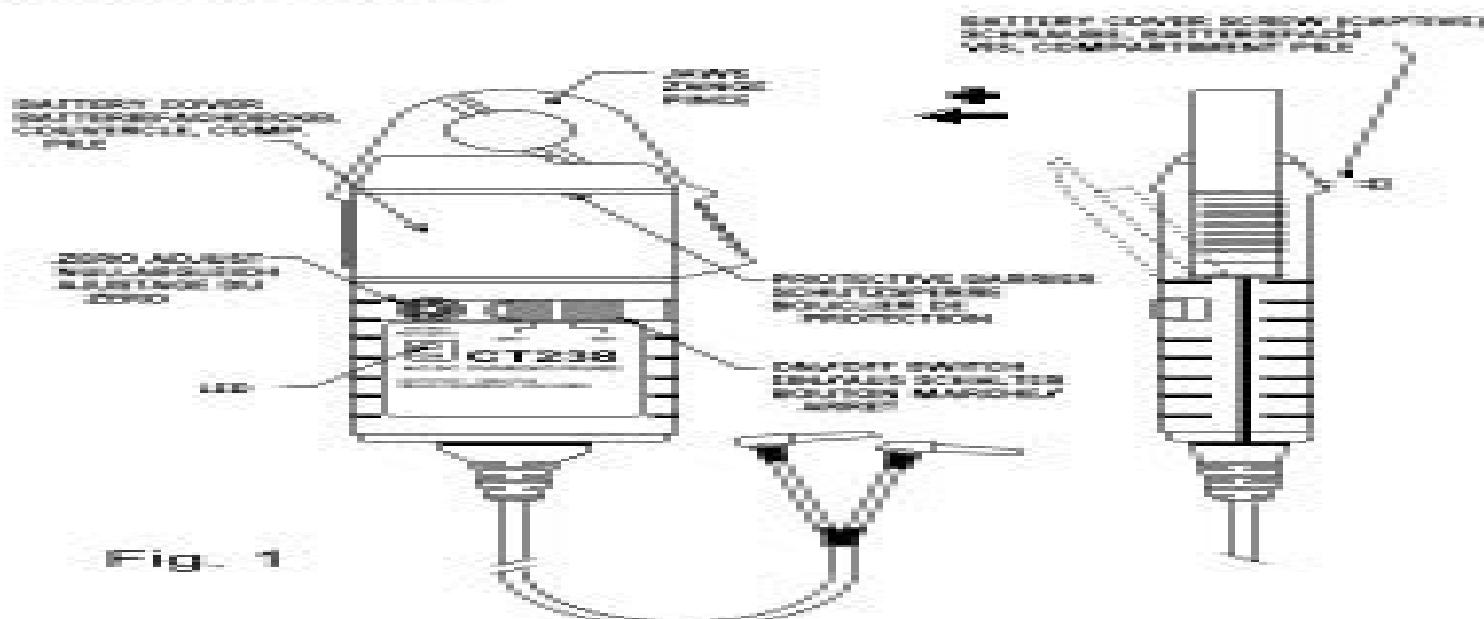

When using the probe ensure that your fingers are behind the protective barrier (see Fig. 2).

Clean the case periodically by wiping it with a damp cloth and detergent. Do not use abrasive cleaners or solvents. Do not immerse the case in water.

SAFETY WARNING: Before removing the battery cover, make sure that the probe is removed from any live electrical circuit.

The red LED will flash when the minimum operating voltage is approached. Refer to Fig. 1 and use the following procedure.

Unclamp the probe from the conductor, turn it off using the On - OFF switch and disconnect the output leads from external equipment. Loosen the captive screw which secures the battery cover. Lift the cover through 90° and pull it clear of the probe body as shown in Fig 1. The battery is then accessible. Replace the battery and re-fit the battery cover and fasten the screw. Replacement with other than the specified type of battery will invalidate the warranty. Fit only Type 1974 PPS, AEG/Line 0714 1604-5.
