Advances In Interpreting Research Inquiry In Action Benjamins Translation Library:

Advances in Interpreting Research Brenda Nicodemus, Laurie Swabey, 2011-11-22 With the growing emphasis on scholarship in interpreting this collection tackles issues critical to the inquiry process from theoretical orientations in Interpreting Studies to practical considerations for conducting a research study As a landmark volume it charts new territory by addressing a range of topics germane to spoken and signed language interpreting research Both provocative and pragmatic this volume captures the thinking of an international slate of interpreting scholars including Daniel Gile Franz P chhacker Debra Russell Barbara Moser Mercer Melanie Metzger Cynthia Roy Minhua Liu Jemina Napier Lorraine Leeson Jens Hessmann Graham Turner Eeva Salmi Svenja Wurm Rico Peterson Robert Adam Christopher Stone Laurie Swabey and Brenda Nicodemus Experienced academics will find ideas to stimulate their passion and commitment for research while students will gain valuable insights within its pages This new volume is essential reading for anyone involved in interpreting research

Introducing New Hypertexts on Interpreting (Studies) Cornelia Zwischenberger, Karin Reithofer, Sylvi Rennert, 2023-04-15 The contributions in this volume are a reflection of the entire range of Interpreting Studies from explorations of research methodology and interpreting quality research to public service interpreting today and in the past risk management strategies in court interpreting and the interdependencies of interpreters in project networks They address questions such as who can be called an interpreter present new approaches to interpreter education and discuss advances in technology both in terms of speech to text interpreting and the changes that the Covid 19 pandemic has brought to the lives of interpreters The breadth of this volume s topics reflects the oeuvre of Franz P chhacker who has left his mark on Interpreting Studies over more than three decades This tribute not only reflects the many strands of his work but also offers new research and insights by established scholars and young researchers in the ever growing field of Interpreting Studies

The Routledge Handbook of Sign Language Translation and Interpreting Christopher Stone, Robert Adam, Ronice Müller de Quadros, Christian Rathmann, 2022-07-18 This Handbook provides the first comprehensive overview of sign language translation and interpretation from around the globe and looks ahead to future directions of research Divided into eight parts the book covers foundational skills the working context of both the sign language translator and interpreter their education the sociological context work settings diverse service users and a regional review of developments The chapters are authored by a range of contributors both deaf and hearing from the Global North and South diverse in ethnicity language background and academic discipline Topics include the history of the profession the provision of translation and interpreting in different domains and to different populations the politics of provision and the state of play of sign language translation and interpreting professions across the globe Edited and authored by established and new voices in the field this is the essential guide for advanced students and researchers of translation and interpretation studies and sign language

The Routledge Handbook of Translation History Christopher Rundle, 2021-09-30 The Routledge Handbook of Translation History presents

the first comprehensive state of the art overview of this multi faceted disciplinary area and serves both as an introduction to carrying out research into translation and interpreting history and as a key point of reference for some of its main theoretical and methodological issues interdisciplinary approaches and research themes The Handbook brings together 30 eminent international scholars from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds offering examples of the most innovative research while representing a wide range of approaches themes and cultural contexts The Handbook is divided into four sections the first looks at some key methodological and theoretical approaches the second examines some of the key research areas that have developed an interdisciplinary dialogue with translation history the third looks at translation history from the perspective of specific cultural and religious perspectives and the fourth offers a selection of case studies on some of the key topics to have emerged in translation and interpreting history over the past 20 years This Handbook is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of translation and interpreting history translation theory and related areas

Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1991

Efforts and Models in Interpreting and Translation Research Gyde Hansen, Andrew Chesterman, Heidrun Gerzymisch-Arbogast, 2008 This volume covers a wide range of topics in Interpreting and Translation Research Some deal with scientometrics and the history of Interpreting Studies arguments about conceptual analysis meta language and interpreters risk taking strategies Other papers are on research skills like career management writing communicative abstracts and the practicalities of survey research Several contributions address empirical issues such as expertise in Simultaneous Interpreting the cognitive load imposed on interpreters by a non native accent the impact of intonation on interpreting quality linguistic interference in Simultaneous Interpreting similarities between translation and interpreting and the relation between translation competence and revision competence The collection is a tribute to Daniel Gile in appreciation of his creativity and his commitment to interpreting and translation research All the contributions in some way show his influence or are related to the models and research he has shaped

Why Translation Studies Matters Daniel Gile, Gyde Hansen, Nike K. Pokorn, 2010-02-25 Whether Translation Studies really matters is an important and challenging question which practitioners of translation and interpreting raise repeatedly TS scholars many of whom are translators and interpreters themselves are not indifferent to it either The twenty papers of this thematic volume contributed by authors from various parts of Europe from Brazil and from Israel address it in a positive spirit Some do so through direct critical reflection and analysis arguing in particular that the engagement of TS with society should be strengthened so that the latter could benefit more from the former Others illustrate the relevance and contribution of TS to society and to other disciplines from various angles Topics broached include the cultural mediation role of translators issues in literary translation knowledge as intellectual capital globalization through English and risks associated with it bridging languages mass media corpora training the use of modern technology interdisciplinarity with psycholinguistics and neurophysiology

Methods and Strategies of Process Research Cecilia Alvstad, Adelina Hild, Elisabet Tiselius, 2011-07-20 The volume includes contributions on the cognitive processes underlying translation and interpreting which represent innovative research with a methodological and empirical orientation The methodological section offers an assessment validation of different time lag measures discusses the challenges of interpreting keystroke and eye tracking data in translation and triangulating disfluency analysis and eye tracking data in sight translation research The remainder of the volume features empirical studies on such topics as metaphor comprehension audience perception in subtitling research translation and meta linguistic awareness effect of language pair specific factors on interpreting quality A special section is dedicated to expertise studies which look at the link between problem analysis and meta knowledge in experienced translators the effects of linguistic complexity on expert interpreting strategic processing and tacit knowledge in professional interpreting The volume celebrates the work of Birgitta Englund Dimitrova and her contribution to the development of process oriented research

Getting Started in Interpreting Research Daniel Gile,Helle V. Dam,Friedel Dubslaff,Bodil Martinsen,Anne

Schjoldager,2001-12-31 What sets this collection apart in the literature is its direct personal style Experienced supervisors as well as younger scholars speak to beginning researchers in interpreting and more generally in Translation Studies The contributors who are very familiar with the difficulties beginners experience focus on their needs and anticipate their questions They reflect analyze and advise with illustrations from their own experience Issues discussed include topic selection project planning time management doctoral stress the use of the literature critical reading and book reviews supervisor supervisee relations institutional frameworks for research training issues in empirical research theoretical analysis and the role of small projects Readers will thus find answers to many personal institutional and methodological questions which are common to beginners in many disciplines and in many paradigms

Interpreting Studies at the Crossroads of Disciplines Simon Zupan,Aleksandra Nuč,2017-07-07 Interdisciplinarity has been a defining feature of Interpreting Studies from its inception The present volume comprises a selection of papers by authors from five different European countries the papers explore the crossroads of various subdisciplines within Interpreting Studies and beyond The contributions show that while traditional approaches and combinations with other established disciplines such as sociology law or linguistics remain common advances in technology in particular rapid software development require that Interpreting Studies must also adapt to and accept a new social reality Using examples from a range of institutional settings the authors demonstrate what the effect of these changes has been and will be on the theory teaching and practice of interpreting

Books in Print ,1991 New Insights in the History of Interpreting Kayoko Takeda,Jesús Baigorri-Jalón,2016-03-10

Who mediated intercultural exchanges in 9th century East Asia or in early voyages to the Americas Did the Soviets or the Americans invent simultaneous interpreting equipment How did the US government train its first Chinese interpreters Why is it that Taiwanese interpreters were executed for Japanese war crimes Bringing together papers from an international symposium held at Rikkyo University in 2014 along with two select pieces this volume pursues such questions in an eclectic exploration of the practice of interpreting the recruitment of interpreters and the challenges interpreters have faced in diplomacy colonization religion war and occupation It also introduces innovative use of photography artifacts personal journals and fiction as tools for the historical study of interpreters and interpreting Targeted at practitioners scholars and students of interpreting translation and history the new insights presented in the ten original articles aim to spark discussion and research on the vital roles interpreters have played in intercultural communication through history Now Open Access as part of the Knowledge Unlatched 2017 Backlist Collection The Turns of Translation Studies Mary

Snell-Hornby,2006-01-01 What s new in Translation Studies In offering a critical assessment of recent developments in the young discipline this book sets out to provide an answer as seen from a European perspective today Many new ideas actually go back well into the past and the German Romantic Age proves to be the starting point The main focus lies however on the last 20 years and beginning with the cultural turn of the 1980s the study traces what have turned out since then to be ground breaking contributions new paradigms as against what was only a change in position on already established territory shifting viewpoints Topics of the 1990s include nonverbal communication gender based Translation Studies stage translation new fields of interpreting studies and the effects of new technologies and globalization including the increasingly dominant role of English The author s aim is to stimulate discussion and provoke further debate on the current profile and future perspectives of Translation Studies Anthropology Newsletter ,1991 Coordinating Participation in Dialogue Interpreting

Claudio Baraldi,Laura Gavioli,2012 Dialogue interpreting which takes place in institutional settings such as legal proceedings healthcare contexts work meetings or media talk has attracted increasing attention in translation language and communication studies Drawing on transcribed sequences of authentic talk this volume raises questions about aspects of interpreting that have been taken for granted challenging preconceived notions about differences between professional and non professional interpreting and pointing in new directions for future research Collecting contributions from major scholars in the field of dialogue interpreting and interaction studies the volume offers new insights into the relationship between interpreting and mediating It addresses a wide readership including students and scholars in translation and interpreting studies mediation and negotiation studies linguistics sociology communication studies conversation analysis discourse analysis Current Law Index ,1989 Psycholinguistic and Cognitive Inquiries Into Translation and

Interpreting Aline Ferreira,John W. Schwieter,2015-01-15 Psycholinguistic and Cognitive Inquiries into Translation and Interpreting presents perspectives and original studies that aim to diversify traditional approaches in translation and interpreting research and improve the quality and generalizability of the field The volume is divided into two parts Part I includes an introductory discussion on the input of psycholinguistics and cognitive science to translation and interpreting along with two state of the art chapters that discuss valid experimental designs while critically reviewing and building on existing work Part II subsequently presents original studies which explore the performance of expert and novice translators using a variety of methodologies such as eye tracking keystroke logging retrospective protocols and post editing machine translation It also presents contributions for exploratory studies on interpreting and for testing several constructs such as language competence and the role of expertise redundancy and working memory capacity This volume is intended to act as a valuable reference for scholars practitioners translators graduate and advanced undergraduate students and anyone wishing to gain an overview of current issues in translation and interpreting from psycholinguistic and cognitive domains

Researching Translation and Interpreting Claudia V. Angelelli, Brian James Baer, 2015-07-16 This volume offers a comprehensive view of current research directions in Translation and Interpreting Studies outlining the theoretical concepts underpinning that research and presenting detailed discussions of the various methods used Organized around three factors that are responsible for shaping the study of translation and interpreting today post positivist theoretical approaches developments in the language industry and technological innovations this volume is divided into three parts Part I introduces the basic concepts organizing translation and interpreting research such as the difference between qualitative and quantitative research between product oriented and process oriented studies and between prescriptive and descriptive approaches Part II provides a theoretical mapping of current translation and interpreting research covering the theories underlying the current conceptualization of translation and interpreting from queer studies to cognitive science Part III explores the key methodological approaches to research in Translation and Interpreting Studies including corpus based longitudinal observational and ethnographic studies as well as survey and focus group based studies The international range of contributors are all leading research experts who use the methodologies in their work They present the research aims of these methods offer sample research questions that can and cannot be addressed by these methods and discuss modes of data collection and analysis This is an essential reference for all advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in Translation and Interpreting Studies

Beyond Descriptive Translation Studies Anthony Pym, Miriam Shlesinger, Daniel Simeoni, 2008-03-13 To go beyond the work of a leading intellectual is rarely an unambiguous tribute However when Gideon Toury founded Descriptive Translation Studies as a research based discipline he laid down precisely that intellectual challenge not just to describe translation but to explain it through reference to wider relations That call offers at once a common base an open and multidirectional ambition and many good reasons for unambiguous tribute The authors brought together in this volume include key players in Translation Studies who have responded to Toury's challenge in one way or another Their diverse contributions address issues such as the sociology of translators contemporary changes in intercultural relations the fundamental problem of defining translations the nature of explanation and case studies including pseudotranslation in Renaissance Italy Sherlock Holmes in Turkey and the coffee and sugar economy in Brazil All acknowledge Translation Studies as a research based space for conceptual coherence and creativity all seek to explain as well as describe In this sense we believe that Toury's call has been answered beyond expectations

Teaching Dialogue

Interpreting Letizia Cirillo, Natacha Niemants, 2017-10-15 Teaching Dialogue Interpreting is one of the very few book length contributions that cross the research to training boundary in dialogue interpreting The volume is innovative in at least three ways First it brings together experts working in areas as diverse as business interpreting court interpreting medical interpreting and interpreting for the media who represent a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches Second it addresses instructors and course designers in higher education but may also be used for refresher courses and or retraining of in service interpreters and bilingual staff Third and most important it provides a set of resources which while research driven are also readily usable in the classroom either together or separately depending on specific training needs and or research interests The collection thus makes a significant contribution in curriculum design for interpreter education
