The Advertising and Consumer Culture Reader Joseph Turow, Matthew P. McAllister, 2009

Commercial breaks radio spots product placements billboards pop up ads we sometimes take for granted how much advertising surrounds us in our daily lives We may find ads funny odd or even disturbing but we rarely stop to consider their deeper meaning or function within society What exactly does advertising do How and why do ads influence us How does the advertising industry influence our media These are just a few of the many important questions addressed in The Advertising and Consumer Culture Reader an incisive provocative collection that assembles twenty seven of the most important scholarly writings on advertising and consumer culture to date The classic and contemporary essays gathered here explore the past present and future of advertising from the early days of print to the World Wide Web and beyond These selections offer historical sociological critical cultural and political economic lenses to explore a wide range of topics from consumer activism to globalization to the role of ads in the political process Together these key readings chart the past present and future of advertising while also examining the effects of advertising and consumer culture upon individuals society cultures and the world at large Designed for use in courses the collection begins with a general introduction that orients students to thinking critically about advertising and consumer culture Section and chapter introductions offer valuable historical and critical context while review questions after each reading will spark classroom debates and challenge students understanding of key concepts

Cross-country Comparison of Consumer Attitudes Toward Corporate Cause-related Marketing Campaigns Gayatri Vineet Kuber, 2005

Commercializing Women Katherine Toland Frith, Kavita Karan, 2008

Commercializing Women is a collection of original essays intended to stimulate discussion about the depictions of women in Asian media The authors explain how the underlying philosophical and cultural contexts that shape the life experiences of women in Asia are reflected in the media portrayals especially in advertising They discuss the influence of Confucianism in China Korea Taiwan and Singapore the traditional Hindu beliefs that have shaped life for women in India and finally the role of Islam in constructing social norms for women in Islamic countries like Pakistan Together these traditional influences along with the new and emerging global cultural values inherent in the media weave a set of conditions that create the context for images of women in Asian media Through a sampling of countries in Asia the authors are able to explore and compare the underlying issues that affect the commercial representation of women in the region By drawing on a range of methodologies this book provides scholars with an understanding of the representation of women in advertising from the point of view of message producers who view Asian women as a growing market for clothing and beauty products as well as from the point of view of many Asian women who see these commercial messages as tools for either subjugation or empowerment
