Adventures In Singing:

Adventures in Singing Clifton Ware, 2008 Adventures in Singing combines a thorough introduction to the singing process with an anthology of 70 songs. It offers a clear introduction to the basics of how the voice works along with methodical voice building techniques. The popular text takes a holistic approach throughout reflecting the view that the study of singing helps students to develop greater self awareness of body and mind. There is an additional CD available for purchase that provides piano accompaniments of the songs in the anthology. There is also an online learning Center at <http://www.mhhe.com/ais4> that provides additional student support.

Adventures in Singing - With 2 CD's, 2007 Adventures in Singing: a Process for Exploring, Discovering, and Developing Vocal Potential, 2008

The Singer's Life Clifton Ware, 2005-01-01 The Singer's Life Goals and Roles is based on a series of essays written for the National Opera Association's Opera Journal as a five year ongoing column titled High Notes. In 1998 president Arvid Knudsen approached me about writing a brief quarterly column for NOA's Opera Journal on a topic of interest to singers. At that time having been a singer for fifty years and a voice teacher for forty years I thought I might have some worthwhile information to share with vocal musicians so I enthusiastically accepted the assignment. After giving serious consideration to potential topics I settled on the idea of exploring the wide variety of roles played by singers metaphorically speaking the various hats worn by singers both as vocal musicians and as human beings. So this series of essays focuses on the many complex challenges inherent in the voice profession primarily from the point of view of classically trained singers but also relevant to singers of non classical music. To add a personal touch throughout the book I've included some relevant anecdotes and experiences that relate to each role as played out over my long career beginning as a starry eyed young singer and culminating as a teacher mentor and writer.
