The Source Loretto Dennis Szucs, Sandra Hargreaves Luebking, 2006 Genealogists and other historical researchers have valued the first two editions of this work often referred to as the genealogist's bible. The new edition continues that tradition. Intended as a handbook and a guide to selecting, locating, and using appropriate primary and secondary resources, The Source also functions as an instructional tool for novice genealogists and a refresher course for experienced researchers. More than 30 experts in this field—genealogists, historians, librarians, and archivists—prepared the 20 signed chapters, which are well written, easy to read, and include many helpful hints for getting the most out of whatever information is acquired. Each chapter ends with an extensive bibliography and is further enriched by tables, black and white illustrations, and examples of documents. Eight appendixes include the expected contact information for groups and institutions that persons studying genealogy and history need to find.

O'Connor, 2019-04-30 In this marvel of storytelling, a journalist pursues the mysteries of human navigation across continents and deep within the brain. Kirkus Reviews starred review: Biologists have been trying to solve the mystery of how organisms have the ability to migrate and orient with such precision, especially since our own adventurous ancestors spread across the world without maps or instruments. In Wayfinding, M. R. O'Connor goes to the Arctic, the Australian bush, and the South Pacific to talk to masters of their environment who seek to preserve their traditions at a time when anyone can use a GPS to navigate. O'Connor explores the neurological basis of spatial orientation within the brain and how exercising our cognitive mapping skills can improve the health of our hippocampus. She also talks to scientists studying how atrophy in the hippocampus is associated with afflictions such as impaired memory, dementia, Alzheimer's Disease, depression, and PTSD. Wayfinding is a captivating book that charts how our species' profound capacity for exploration, memory, and storytelling results in topophilia—the love of place. Subject Guide to Books in Print, 2001 American Heritage Society's Americana, 1985 Appendix to the Journals of the House of Representatives of New Zealand New Zealand.
