All About Machine Arts:

Machine Art in the Twentieth Century Andreas Broeckmann, 2016-12-16 An investigation of artists engagement with technical systems tracing art historical lineages that connect works of different periods Machine art is neither a movement nor a genre but encompasses diverse ways in which artists engage with technical systems In this book Andreas Broeckmann examines a variety of twentieth and early twenty first century artworks that articulate people s relationships with machines In the course of his investigation Broeckmann traces historical lineages that connect art of different periods looking for continuities that link works from the end of the century to developments in the 1950s and 1960s and to works by avant garde artists in the 1910s and 1920s An art historical perspective he argues might change our views of recent works that seem to be driven by new media technologies but that in fact continue a century old artistic exploration Broeckmann investigates critical aspects of machine aesthetics that characterized machine art until the 1960s and then turns to specific domains of artistic engagement with technology algorithms and machine autonomy looking in particular at the work of the Canadian artist David Rokeby vision and image and the advent of technical imaging and the human body using the work of the Australian artist Stelarc as an entry point to art that couples the machine to the body mechanically or cybernetically Finally Broeckmann argues that systems thinking and ecology have brought about a fundamental shift in the meaning of technology which has brought with it a rethinking of human subjectivity He examines a range of artworks including those by the Japanese artist Seiko Mikami whose work exemplifies the shift

Machine Art and Other Writings Ezra Pound, 1996

Machine Art and Other Writings documents the wide proportions of Pounds s polemic against the abstractions of modernism and reveals the extent to which he was at odds with the metaphysical assumptions of his time The volume edited by Ardizzone is the result of years of systematic and intensive study of Pound s manuscripts including glosses from the texts of his personal library

Machine Art, 1934 Jennifer Jane Marshall, 2019-01-23 In 1934 New York s Museum of Modern Art staged a major exhibition of ball bearings airplane propellers pots and pans cocktail tumblers petri dishes protractors and other machine parts and products The exhibition titled Machine Art explored these ordinary objects as works of modern art teaching museumgoers about the nature of beauty and value in the era of mass production Telling the story of this extraordinarily popular but controversial show Jennifer Jane Marshall examines its history and the relationship between the museum s director Alfred H Barr Jr and its curator Philip Johnson who oversaw it She situates the show within the tumultuous climate of the interwar period and the Great Depression considering how these unadorned objects served as a response to timely debates over photography abstract art the end of the American gold standard and John Dewey s insight that how a person experiences things depends on the context in which they are encountered An engaging investigation of interwar American modernism Machine Art 1934 reveals how even simple things can serve as a defense against uncertainty
