All Hail the Queen Meesha Mink, 2015-02-24 In this heart pounding sequel to the explosive novel Kiss the Ring Naeema Queen Cole races against the clock to figure out who attacked her man and why before it's too late. Life finally seems to have calmed down for Naeema Queen Cole. After she brought down the Make Money Crew Newark's most notorious bank robbing gang she was able to make peace with the son she never knew. His memory is even starting to feel like a blessing rather than a curse. She and her on again off again husband Tank are back on and stronger than ever. But just when she thought she could put away her undercover identity as Queen and just be Naeema, Tank is attacked while out on a job guarding a high profile celebrity. Everyone thinks it was the celebrity who the target but Naeema knows the attack was personal. With Tank in critical condition and everyone else looking in all the wrong places it's up to her to find out which of Tank's enemies would dare to mess with her man. Hailed for her fast paced action sizzling erotic sex and a heartwarming kick ass heroine. Publishers Weekly Meesha Mink is back with another thrilling tale following Naeema on the hunt for a killer because she'll die before she lets anyone take away her king.

Fashioning the Afropolis Kerstin Pinther, Kristin Kastner, Basile Ndjio, 2022-07-14 A revelation. Reclaiming fashion from its European history. Shane White. With a focus on sub-Saharan Africa. Fashioning the Afropolis provides a range of innovative perspectives on global fashion design, dress, photography and the body in some of the major cities with a focus on Lagos, Johannesburg, Dakar and Douala. It contributes to the ongoing debates around the globalization of fashion and fashion theory by exploring fashion as a genuine urban phenomenon on the continent and among its diasporas. To date fashion and city have not been systematically related to each other in the African context and for too long a western centric gaze has dominated scholarship resulting in the perception of Africa as provincial and its visual arts and textile cultures as static and folkloristic. This perspective is all the more distorted given Africa's rich sartorial past. With a huge number of tailors ready to adapt and renew clothing, reshaping garments into contemporary styles and many cities in Africa becoming hot spots for a steadily growing and well connected scene of fashion designers in the past 20 years the time is ripe for a reevaluation and reconsideration of the fashionscapes of Africa. Leading scholars offer an updated empirical and theoretical foundation on which to base new and exciting research on sub-Saharan fashion, challenging perceptions and offering new insights.

Craftivism and Yarn Bombing Alyce McGovern, 2019-08-19 This book explores the use of handmade crafts as a vehicle for protest. Craftivism has experienced a resurgence in recent years often in direct response to the social environment and political concerns of those who engage in the practice. Acts of craftivism raise important questions for criminologists about the use of public space power and resistance. McGovern focuses on an example of the craftivist movement that has been steadily gaining momentum since the early to mid 2000s: yarn bombing. As an urban craft movement that melds the skills of knitting or crochet with the act of graffiti, yarn bombing has the potential to contribute to criminological understandings of graffiti and street art, particularly on issues of gender perceptions of and motivations for graffiti and the commodification of crime Drawing on interviews with yarn bombers and craftivists Craftivism and Yarn Bombing explores how such acts can be understood and explored through a criminological lens and will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including criminology sociology cultural studies gender studies and urban studies Hip-Hop Revolution in the Flesh G.
