

A woman with long brown hair, seen from the side and back, is holding a tablet and interacting with a lighting control app. The app's interface is visible on the screen, showing a color palette and various control buttons. In the background, a modern interior is visible, featuring a large, curved wall mural of a landscape with mountains and a river. The room is well-lit by several smart lighting fixtures, including a large circular chandelier and recessed ceiling lights. A wooden dining table is in the foreground, with a small potted cactus and a large, rectangular planter filled with various plants on a shelf above it.
