Sweat Equity Jason Kelly, 2016-03-29 Go inside the trend that spawned a multi billion dollar industry for the top five percent Sweat Equity goes inside the multibillion dollar trend toward endurance sports and fitness to discover who's driving it who's paying for it and who's profiting Bloomberg's Jason Kelly author of The New Tycoons profiles the participants entrepreneurs and investors at the center of this movement exploring this phenomenon in which a surge of people led by the most affluent are becoming increasingly obsessed with looking and feeling better Through in depth looks inside companies and events from New York Road Runners to Tough Mudder and Ironman Kelly profiles the companies and people aiming to meet the demands of these consumers and the traits and strategies that made them so successful In a modern world filled with anxiety pressure and competition people are spending more time and money than ever before to soothe their minds and tone their bodies sometimes pushing themselves to the most extreme limits Even as obesity rates hit an all time high the most financially successful among us are collectively spending billions each year on apparel gear and entry fees Sweat Equity charts the rise of the movement through the eyes of competitors and the companies that serve them Through conversations with businesspeople many driven by their own fitness obsessions and first hand accounts of the sports themselves Kelly delves into how the movement is taking shape Understand the social science physics and economics of our desire to pursue activities like endurance sports and yoga Get to know the endurance business s target demographics Learn how distance running once a fringe hobby became a multibillion dollar enterprise fueled by private equity Understand how different generations pursue fitness and how fast growing companies sell to them The opportunity to run swim and crawl in the mud is resonating with more and more of us as sports once considered extreme become mainstream As Baby Boomers seek to stay fit and Millennials search for meaning in a hyperconnected world the demand for the race bib is outstripping supply even as the cost to participate escalates Sweat Equity through the stories of men and women inside the most influential races and companies goes to the heart of the movement where mind body and big money collide #artselfie Simon Castets,DIS (Organization),2014 artselfie opens with an incisive remark by Douglas Coupland who warns us that Selfies are mirrors we can freeze Selfies allow us to see how others look at themselves in a mirror making their modeling face when nobody s around except these days everybody s around everywhere all the time artselfie emerged in 2012 right as the recent photographic phenomenon known as the selfie reached it s tipping point It was subsequently activated by New York based collective DIS as an aggregated mode of art tourism and documentation These selfies and their dialogue with art are an opportunity to revisit fundamental questions such as if art is a mirror what happens when we place ourselves between it and the camera The traditional trajectory from photographer to subject via the camera has been subverted and with it the nature of images and our perception of them The artselfie makes every participant both protagonist and collaborator consumer and producer Including an introduction by Douglas Coupland author of Generation X Tales for an Accelerated Culture and ruthless observer of contemporary society and a discussion between Simon Castets director of the Swiss Institute in New York and co founder of the 89 project and DIS artselfie allows us to experience how significant and seductive this viral phenomenon is
