Navigating World History P. Manning, 2003-05-15 World history has expanded dramatically in recent years primarily as a teaching field and increasingly as a research field Growing numbers of teachers and Ph Ds in history are required to teach the subject They must be current on topics from human evolution to industrial development in Song dynasty China to today's disease patterns and then link these disparate topics into a coherent course Numerous textbooks in print and in preparation

European Perceptions of Islam and America from Saladin to George W. Bush Peter O'Brien, 2009-02-13 The study unearths in European writings about chief rivals Islamic civilization between the first Crusade in 1095 and the final Ottoman siege of Vienna in 1683 and the United States of America from independence in 1776 until the present persistent solicitude regarding Europe's capacity to lead the world Intriguingly however this very self doubt prompted the kind of intense introspection which helped in the past to forge seismic progressive reform movements such as the Renaissance Reformation and Scientific Revolution that ultimately propelled Europe past a more inward looking Islam and which today may very well be positioning a rapidly transforming Europe Union to counter the hegemony of a seemingly smug America The study concludes that frail if not low self esteem has played a significant role in the formation of European identity

Science Across the European Empires, 1800-1950 Benedikt Stuchtey, 2005 The volume investigates how the British French German and Dutch empires influenced or were influenced by scientific exploration as a means Western culture used to gain entry to the non Western world from around 1800 to the middle of the 20th century The transnational perspective aids an understanding and comparison of the sciences as an instrument which the colonial powers employed to gain economic advantage and political control The essays pay tribute to the metropolitan centre and colonial periphery viewpoints and to the different ways in which imperial expansion occurred Science had specific meanings in the specific historical realities of European colonialism the European case studies present similarities and differences in their imperial systems and in the way in which science was used in relation to the level at which they interacted intellectually with the indigenous populations

Separating the Yam from the Boulder Bernardo Ammedeo Michael, 2001

Ming-Southeast Asian Overland Interactions, 1368-1644 Laichen Sun, 2000 Over the last fifty years Southeast Asia has been narrowly defined based on its modern political boundaries and when scholars look for external factors affecting Southeast Asian history the maritime approach has dominated This dissertation redresses these problems by defining a zone termed Northern Mainland Southeast Asia encompassing southern Yunnan northeast India and northern parts of mainland Southeast Asia and by focusing on Ming Southeast Asian overland interactions Utilizing a large number of primary sources in Chinese Vietnamese Tai and Burmese it examines the transfer of military technology from Ming China to Southeast Asia Ming China's political expansion overland trade and the migration of Han Chinese into Northern Mainland Southeast Asia It argues that the overland stimuli especially military technology and trade from Ming China contributed to the emergence of Northern Mainland Southeast Asia between the 1430s and 1530s which was epitomized in the rise of the Maw Shans the decisive defeat of Champa by Dai Viet Dai Viet's long march as far as the Irrawaddy River the prosperity and military strength of Lan Na the rise of Mongmit and Mohnyin and the sack of Ava by Mohnyin and the expansion of the Ahoms However after the arrival of European military technology via the maritime route

after the early sixteenth century the tables were turned Southern Mainland Southeast Asia as represented by Burma Myanmar started its northward and eastward expansion at the expense of Northern Mainland Southeast Asia Without denying internal dynamics this dissertation demonstrates that the shift of external stimuli in particular military technology changed the orientation of mainland Southeast Asian history and Sino Southeast Asian overland interactions Diaspora Entrepreneurial Networks Ina Baghdiantz McCabe, Gelina Harlaftis, Ioanna Pepelasis Minoglou, 2005 Diasporas large scale ethnic migrations have been a source of growing concern as we try to understand the nature of community identity and nationalism Traditionally diaspora communities have been understood to be pariah communities and most work on diasporas has focused on specific groups such as the Jewish or African Diaspora This book is unique in arguing against traditional interpretations and in taking a comparative look at a range of diasporas including the Jewish Arab Chinese Japanese Indian Maltese Greek and Armenian diasporas Taking the past four centuries into consideration the authors examine diaspora trading networks across the globe on both a regional and international level They investigate the common patterns and practices in the enterprises of diaspora peoples and entrepreneurs The regions covered include Western Europe the Mediterranean South West Asia and the Indian Ocean and South East Asia Global networks of diaspora trading groups were crucial to international trade well before the twentieth century yet because they were not part of established institutions they have remained elusive to economists sociologists and historians Through an understanding of diaspora trading networks we learn not only about diaspora communities but also about the roots of the modern global economy Comparative Early Modernities David Porter, 2012-09-14 Recent historical scholarship has shown the way towards a geographically capacious conception of the early modern world Featuring essays by nine leading scholars of early modern Asia and Europe Comparative Early Modernities casts aside the legacies of European exceptionalism to reveal the interconnected multiplicity of the early modern world and of the variety of unexpected pathways linking these histories to the evolving modernities of the 21st century In their fresh and provocative examinations of topics in literature philosophy art history and political economy the authors transform our understanding of global early modernity and reassess the theoretical and methodological premises of comparative historical studies
