Assessing Competence in Professional Performance across Disciplines and Professions Paul F. Wimmers,Marcia Mentkowski,2016-04-19 This book examines the challenges of cross professional comparisons and proposes new forms of performance assessment to be used in professions education It addresses how complex issues are learned and assessed across and within different disciplines and professions in order to move the process of performance assessment for learning to the next level In order to be better equipped to cope with increasing complexity change and diversity in professional education and performance assessment administrators and educators will engage in crucial systems thinking The main question discussed by the book is how the required competence in the performance of students can be assessed during their professional education at both undergraduate and graduate levels To answer this question the book identifies unresolved issues and clarifies conceptual elements for performance assessment It reviews the development of constructs that cross disciplines and professions such as critical thinking clinical reasoning and problem solving It discusses what it means to instruct and assess students within their own domain of study and across various roles in multiple contexts but also what it means to instruct and assess students across domains of study in order to judge integration and transfer of learning outcomes Finally the book examines what it takes for administrators and educators to develop competence in assessment such as reliably judging student work in relation to criteria from multiple sources the co editors of this volume Marcia Mentkowski and Paul F Wimmers are associated with two institutions whose characters are so intimately associated with the insight that assessment must be integrated with curriculum and instructional program if it is to become a powerful influence on the educational process Lee Shulman Stanford University

Inclusive Online and Distance Education for Learners with Dis/abilities Mary F. Rice,Michael Dunn,2023-07-24 The term Inclusive Online Education has generated great interest within and across educational levels and contexts yet practical applications of it remain elusive in many institutional settings Chapters in this book highlight define and interrogate definitions of inclusion The research studies reported here focus on moving the conversation about inclusive online education away from individual accommodations for which students must qualify to models where learning experiences are designed for the success of all students and teachers both technically and relationally While some authors do mention the need to know and understand the Universal Design for Learning UDL the authors in these chapters go beyond UDL to include understandings about historical challenges with inclusive education emerging understandings about designing strong online instruction and how placed based thinking and social settings provide resources from which to draw in creating online learning environments and experiences that are not only humanized but humane This book highlights research focused on moving the conversation about inclusion away from individual accommodations for which students must qualify to models where learning experiences are designed to address historical inequities and promote success for all students and teachers Collectively the chapters underscore the need to choose materials design assessments plan instruction and engage with students in accordance with relational commitments to equity Inclusive Online and Distance Education for Learners with Disabilities will be a great resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Education Education Policy Educational Research and Disability Studies in Education The chapters included in this book were originally published as a special issue of Distance Education People Management,2009
