Anglicisms In German Advertising Slogans:

Anglicisms in German Advertising Slogans Anna Theresa Wendel, 2014-08-26 Seminar paper from the year 2013 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1.0 University of Trier language English abstract For quite some time advertising is a gateway for anglicisms into the German language The VDS Verein Deutscher Sprache Association of German Language also shares this opinion They say that the main transmitters for anglicisms in Germany are the mass media and the advertising and entertaining industry Although anglicisms belong to the most explored aspects of advertising language there haven't been many empirical studies yet Their proportion in a temporal comparative and in connection with various product groups is rarely studied in the German speaking area Especially the researches of Dagmar Schütte and the database slogans.de offer a basis to investigate these questions In this paper it will be mainly referred to slogans since they appear in every kind of media and because they are the main representatives of the trends in the advertising language First the evaluation of Schütte 1996 which reaches until 1991 should be checked Then it should be examined whether the increase of English slogans continues onwards in the 1990s and the 2000s Furthermore the sectoral distribution of English slogans will be analyzed In order to provide a prospect to the future this work will also contain a chapter about the new language trend in German advertising Schütte defines an anglicism as a linguistic sign consisting wholly or partly of English morphemes regardless of whether it is connected to a common meaning in the English language usage or not In the following this definition is adopted what means that the term anglicism is generally an English coined word or expression

The German Language in the Digital Age Georg Rehm, Hans Uszkoreit, 2012-08-28 This white paper is part of a series that promotes knowledge about language technology and its potential It addresses educators journalists politicians language communities and others The availability and use of language technology in Europe varies between languages Consequently the actions that are required to further support research and development of language technologies also differ for each language The required actions depend on many factors such as the complexity of a given language and the size of its community META-NET a Network of Excellence funded by the European Commission has conducted an analysis of current language resources and technologies This analysis focused on the 23 official European languages as well as other important national and regional languages in Europe The results of this analysis suggest that there are many significant research gaps for each language A more detailed expert analysis and assessment of the current situation will help maximise the impact of additional research and minimize any risks META-NET consists of 54 research centres from 33 countries that are working with stakeholders from commercial businesses government agencies industry research organisations software companies technology providers and European universities Together they are creating a common technology vision while developing a strategic research agenda that shows how language technology applications can address any research gaps by 2020

Crossing Languages to Play with Words Sebastian Knospe, Alexander Onysko, Maik Goth, 2016-09-26 Wordplay

involving several linguistic codes is an important modality of ludic language This volume offers a multidisciplinary approach to the topic discussing examples from different epochs genres and communicative situations The contributions illustrate the multi dimensionality linguistic make up and the special interactive potential of wordplay across linguistic and cultural boundaries including the challenging practice of translation The Influence of English on German Business Language a Corpus-based Study of the Use of Anglicisms in the German Business Press Marc O. Rathmann,2006 Schritte international ,2010 The Position of the German Language in the World Ulrich Ammon,2019-08-08 The Position of the German Language in the World focuses on the global position of German and the factors which work towards sustaining its use and utility for international communication From the perspective of the global language constellation the detailed data analysis of this substantial research project depicts German as an example of a second rank language The book also provides a model for analysis and description of international languages other than English It offers a framework for strengthening the position of languages such as Arabic Chinese French Portuguese Spanish and others and for countering exaggerated claims about the global monopoly position of English This comprehensive handbook of the state of the German language in the world was originally published in 2015 by Walter de Gruyter in German and has been critically acclaimed Suitable for scholars and researchers of the German language the handbook shows in detail how intricately and thoroughly German and other second rank languages are tied up with a great number of societies and how these statistics support or weaken the languages functions and maintenance English Loanwords in Polish and German After 1945 Kinga Nettmann-Multanowska,2003 An morphological and orthographic analysis of post 1945 English loanwords cropping up in both Polish and German in order to trace analogies and dissimilarities in loanword treatment The importance and influence of anglicisms in german language and audio-visual advertising Claudia Stehr,2007-05-13 Seminar paper from the year 2002 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 3 Technical University of Braunschweig Englisches Seminar course Language in Advertisment language English abstract Language is not stable it is a communication system used by human beings As people and the environment they live in change and develop it is natural for language to change and to get influenced as well The amount of English words in the German language increased highly since 1945 and especially since advertising plays an important role in our society After the second World War the connection between Germany and the Western world got stronger and more intensive than it had been before Especially the areas media literature music and theatre but also politics sports and economy have very high influences on the growing use of English words in German language The German Academy of Language in Berlin says that no more than five per cent lexical amount of anglicisms are existing in the German language That indeed is not much but this does not propose anything about how often these words are used in the every day language There are no concrete guidelines or laws about the usage of Anglicisms and advertising agencies tend to plead that they only orientate on those English words which are already used by Germans

This has to be doubted thinking that the words mail express logistics finance Stimulating Facial Freshener or Concentrated Line Smoother are not always understood directly nor by many Germans But the understanding of Anglicisms will not be the subject of this paper In my research paper I want to point out which influence the English language has on the language of advertising and how anglicisms are seen in our society I refer to the audio visual media TV advertisement and try to conclude about the importance and influence of Anglicisms in general In this paper the term Anglicism stands for English and American borrowings as well To supply evidence for my thesis I give and analyse a few examples of advertising spots from the German channel ARD and I also present my results of a questionnaire about Anglicisms in the German language which was filled in by 60 Germans At the beginning I want to go into the terms anglicism language of advertising and I point out the most important reasons for the usage of Anglicisms to give the reader a clear view in which way these terms have to be looked at and dealt with in this paper

Finding the Foreign Robert Schechtman, Suin Roberts, 2007 Finding the Foreign includes the proceedings of the thirteenth annual Interdisciplinary German Studies Conference at the University of California Berkeley 2005 which explored constructions of the other in the German speaking context in language literature music and visual media The collected articles discuss how various tropes and rhetorical techniques have historically been employed to position cultural works on a spectrum from familiar to the strange The multi disciplinary range of approaches contained in this volume reveals how diverse the portrayals of the foreign have been as well as how contingent and varying the delineation between the foreign and the familiar can become
