Animals And Agency Human Animal Studies:

Animals and Agency Sarah E. McFarland, Ryan Hediger, 2009 While many scholars who write about animals deal with animal agency in some way this volume is the first to position the question of nonhuman agency as the primary focus of inquiry Section I presents studies of actual animals demonstrating agency Section II moves agency into new terrain while considering key representations of animal agency in literature Section III analyzes animals as mediators and as conveyances of human to human communication and Section IV investigates the agency of beings who defy conventional species categories The Envoi demonstrates how the microscopic polyp is interwoven into notions of agency and mythical superagency This volume's interdisciplinary explorations press hard on issues of agency to open up space for more questions about how we can understand relationships between the human and the nonhuman Shared Lives of Humans and Animals

Tuomas Räsänen, Taina Syrjämaa, 2017-04-21 The book focuses on animal agency and interactions between humans and animals It explores the reciprocity of human animal relations and the capacity of animals to act and shape human societies The chapters draw on examples from the Global North to explore questions of how industrialization urbanization and human life in modernity have been a

Following the Animal Ann-Sofie Lönnngren, 2015-09-10 Literary transformations from human to animal have occurred in myths folklore fairy tales and narratives from all over the world since ancient times and have always provided a narrative space for depictions of power agency and the radical nature of change In Following the Animal these transformations are analysed with regards to their use in modern literature from northern most Europe with specific attention being paid to the insights they provide regarding the human animal relationship both generally in the industrialized West and against the background of more specific circumstances in the Nordic area In three analytic chapters focusing respectively on Swedish author August Strindberg's novel Tschandala 1887 Finnish author Aino Kallas's novel The Wolf's Bride 1928 and Danish author Karen Blixen Isak Dinesen's short story The Monkey 1934 along with discussions of a range of other authors and texts the reader is introduced to several traditions of literary production that both connect to and differ from Anglophone and other literature in fascinating ways In addition to the insights it provides concerning the uses of human animal transformations in modern Nordic literature and their significance in relation to the question of the animal Following the Animal also offers literary scholars and students alike a series of useable and transferable strategies for approaching texts from a more than anthropocentric human animal studies perspective In phrasing and employing the interpretational method of following the animal over the text's surface up metaphorical elevations down material wormholes and in constant dialogue with previous research this book contributes greatly to both human animal literary studies specifically and to the field of literary scholarship generally in both an international and northern European context

Affect, Space and Animals Jopi Nyman, Nora Schuurman, 2015-11-19 In recent years animals have entered the focus of the social and cultural sciences resulting in the emergence of the new field of human animal studies This book investigates the relationships between humans and animals paying particular attention to the role of affect space and animal subjectivity in diverse human animal encounters Written by a team of international scholars contributions explore current debates concerning animal representation performativity and relationality in various texts and practices Part I explores how animals are framed as affective through four case studies that deal with climate change human bovine relationships and human horse interaction in different contemporary and historical contexts Part II expands on the issue of relationality and locates encounters within place mapping the different spaces where human animal encounters take place Part III then examines the construction of animal subjectivity and agency to emphasize the way in which animals are conscious and sentient beings capable of experiencing feelings emotions and intentions and active agents whose actions have meaning for the animals themselves This book highlights the importance of the ways in which affect enables animal agency and subjectivity to emerge in encounters between humans and animals in different contexts leading to different configurations It contributes not only to debates concerning the role of animals in society but also to the epistemological development of the field of human animal studies

The Human-Animal Relationship in Pre-Modern Turkish Literature Dilek Bulut Sarikaya, 2023-01-09 In The Human Animal Relationship in Pre Modern Turkish Literature A Study of The Book of Dede Korkut and The Masnavi Book I II Dilek Bulut Sarikaya explores medieval Anatolia where humans connectivity to nonhuman animals was not yet disrupted by the capitalist economic systems and demonstrates how ancient societies treated nonhuman animals as self conscious spiritual individuals capable of feeling pain with highly advanced forms of intentionality

Considering Animals Carol Freeman, Elizabeth Leane, Yvette Watt, 2011 Considering Animals draws on the expertise of scholars trained in the biological sciences humanities and social sciences to investigate the complex and contradictory relationships humans have with nonhuman animals Taking their cue from the specific animal moments that punctuate these interactions the essays engage with contemporary issues and debates central to human animal studies the representation of animals the practical and ethical issues inseparable from human interactions with other species and perhaps most challengingly the compelling evidence that animals are themselves considering beings Case studies focus on issues such as animal emotion and human sentimentality the representation of animals in contemporary art and in recent films such as March of the Penguins Happy Feet and Grizzly Man animals experiences in catastrophic events such as Hurricane Katrina and the SARS outbreak and the danger of overvaluing the role humans play in the earth s ecosystems From Marc Bekoff s moving preface through to the last essay Considering Animals foregrounds the frequent sometimes uncanny exchanges with other species that disturb our self contained existences and bring into focus our troubled relationships with them Written in an accessible and jargon free style this collection demonstrates that in the face of species extinction and environmental destruction the roles and fates of animals are too important to be left to any one academic discipline

studies is an academic field that has grown exponentially over the past decade It explores the whys hows and whats of human animal relations why animals are represented and configured in different ways in human cultures and societies around the world how they are imagined experienced and given significance what these relationships might signify about being human and what about these relationships might be improved for the sake of the individuals as well as the communities concerned The Routledge Handbook of Human Animal Studies presents a collection of original essays from artists and scholars who have established themselves internationally on the basis of specific and significant new contributions to human animal studies This international interdisciplinary handbook will be of interest to students and scholars of human animal studies sociology anthropology biology environmental studies geography cultural studies history philosophy media studies gender studies literature psychology ethology and visual studies Animals and War Ryan Hediger,2012-11-01 Animals and War is the first collection of essays to study its topic Using sociology history anthropology and cultural studies it analyzes a wide range of phenomena and exposes the often paradoxical contours of human animal relationships The Oxford Handbook of Animal Studies Linda Kalof,2017-02-01 Intellectual struggles with the animal question how humans can rethink and reconfigure their relationships with other animals first began to take hold in the 1970s Over the next forty years scholars from a wide range of fields would make sweeping reevaluations of the relationship between humans and other animals The Oxford Handbook of Animal Studies brings these diverse evaluations together for the first time paying special attention to the commodification of animals the degradation of the natural world and a staggering loss of animal habitat and species extinction and the increasing need for humans to coexist with other animals in urban rural and natural contexts Linda Kalof maps these themes into the five major categories that structure this volume Animals in the Landscape of Law Politics and Public Policy Animal Intentionality Agency and Reflexive Thinking Animals as Objects in Science Food Spectacle and Sport Animals in Cultural Representations and Animals in Ecosystems Written by international scholars with backgrounds in philosophy law history English art sociology geography archaeology environmental studies cultural studies and animal advocacy the thirty chapters in this handbook investigate key issues and concepts central to understanding our current relationship with other animals and the potential for coexistence in an ecological community of living beings

Human-Animal Studies: Ecology Margo DeMello,Theresa Goedecke,2010-10-01 One in the series of Human Animal Studies ebooks produced as a result of the printed publication of the definitive HAS handbook Teaching the Animal Human Animal Studies across the Disciplines This chapter focuses on cultural studies includes two course syllabi and has a full resources section covering all disciplines Includes Putting Society Back in the Wild by Theresa L Goedecke Considering Animals Dr Carol Freeman,Dr Elizabeth Leane,Ms Yvette Watt,2013-07-28 Considering Animals draws on the expertise of scholars trained in the biological sciences humanities and social sciences to investigate the complex and contradictory relationships humans have with nonhuman animals Taking their cue from the specific animal moments that punctuate these interactions the essays engage with contemporary issues and debates central to human animal studies the representation of animals the practical and ethical issues inseparable from human interactions with other species and perhaps most challengingly the compelling evidence that animals are themselves considering beings Case studies focus on issues such as animal emotion and human sentimentality the representation of animals in contemporary art and in recent films such as March of the Penguins Happy Feet and Grizzly Man animals experiences in catastrophic events such as Hurricane Katrina and the SARS outbreak and the danger of overvaluing the role humans play in the earth's ecosystems From Marc Bekoff's moving preface through to the last essay Considering Animals foregrounds the frequent sometimes uncanny exchanges with other species that disturb our self-contained existences and bring into focus our troubled relationships with them Written in an accessible and jargon-free style this collection demonstrates that in the face of species extinction and environmental destruction the roles and fates of animals are too important to be left to any one academic discipline

Human-animal studies, 2005 Making Animal Meaning Linda Kalof, Georgina M. Montgomery, 2011-12-01 An elucidating collection of ten original essays Making Animal Meaning reconceptualizes methods for researching animal histories and rethinks the contingency of the human animal relationship The vibrant and diverse field of animal studies is detailed in these interdisciplinary discussions which include voices from a broad range of scholars and have an extensive chronological and geographical reach These exciting discourses capture the most compelling theoretical underpinnings of animal significance while exploring meaning-making through the study of specific spaces species and human animal relations A deeply thoughtful collection vital to understanding central questions of agency kinship and animal consumption these essays tackle the history and philosophy of constructing animal meaning

Human-Animal Studies Margo DeMello, 2012-04 An exhaustive listing of books journals articles films conferences college programs organizations and websites from the new and exciting discipline of Human Animal studies The information was gathered by leading academics in the humanities the social sciences and the natural sciences this is the only reference of its kind This project was completed in conjunction with the book Teaching the Animal

Veterinary Public Health: Veterinary Medicine's Current Challenges in a Globalised World Diana Meemken, Ivan Nastasijevic, Reinhard Fries, Suporn Thongyuan, 2025-03-21 The transfer of zoonotic agents leading to diseases and epidemics is well known as well as the role played by human activity in the transmission of such agents Veterinary Public Health VPH has an essential role keeping transmissible diseases under control and it involves different disciplines and the application of different techniques VPH has generally a local and regional focus in sample collection Disease's detection may be limited to specific areas Despite this aspect of VPH the importance of exchanging data discoveries and information cannot be overlooked due to the everchanging landscape in global trade transboundary diseases and extended animal movements On a local scale VPH needs often to face different challenges starting with the infrastructures for live stocks down to optimization using new technologies as Artificial Intelligence There are instances where veterinary services are not readily available and temporary solutions need to be found as for example paraveterinary services The latter should be guaranteed by adequate professional training along the different stages of as an example the food chain production Given the transboundary nature of zoonotic agents and diseases in the last decades the One Health approach has emerged as a new and holistic approach to incorporate the different facets of Veterinary Science To strengthen this approach veterinary training should eventually dedicate more attention to public health and to preventive measures of zoonosis and epidemics This renewed focus will also have the additional benefit of defining more clearly the discipline of VPH Human Public Health with the same philosophy should include the animal ecosphere emerging diseases and zoonoses focusing on the Human Animal Interface

(Un)Stable Relations: Horses, Humans and Social Agency Lynda Birke, Kirrilly Thompson, 2017-12-12 This original and insightful book explores how horses can be considered as social actors within shared interspecies networks It examines what we know about how horses understand us and how we perceive them as well as the implications of actively recognising other animals as actors within shared social lives This book explores how interspecies relationships work using a variety of examples to demonstrate how horses and people build social lives Considering horses as social actors presents new possibilities for improving the quality of animal lives the human condition and human horse relations The Routledge Companion to Animal-Human History Hilda Kean, Philip Howell, 2018-09-03 The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides an up to date guide for the historian working within the growing field of animal human history Giving a sense of the diversity and interdisciplinary nature of the field cutting edge contributions explore the practices of and challenges posed by historical studies of animals and animal human relationships Divided into three parts the Companion takes both a theoretical and practical approach to a field that is emerging as a prominent area of study Animals and the Practice of History considers established practices of history such as political history public history and cultural memory and how animal human history can contribute to them Problems and Paradigms identifies key historiographical issues to the field with contributors considering the challenges posed by topics such as agency literature art and emotional attachment The final section Themes and Provocations looks at larger themes within the history of animal human relationships in more depth with contributions covering topics that include breeding war hunting and eating As it is increasingly recognised that nonhuman actors have contributed to the making of history The Routledge Companion to Animal Human History provides a timely and important contribution to the scholarship on animal human history and surrounding debates Researching animal research Gail Davies, Beth Greenhough, Pru Hobson-West, Robert G. W. Kirk, Alexandra Palmer, Emma Roe, 2024-01-09 Every year around 80 million scientific procedures are carried out on animals globally These experiments have the potential to generate new understandings of biology and clinical treatments They also give rise to ongoing societal debate This book demonstrates how the humanities and social sciences can contribute to understanding what is created through animal procedures including constitutional forms of research governance different institutional cultures of care the professional careers of scientists and veterinarians collaborations with patients and publics and research animals specially bred for experiments or surplus to requirements Developing the idea of the animal research nexus this book explores how connections and disconnections are made between these different elements how these have reshaped each other historically and how they configure the current practice and policy of UK animal research An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence

Methods in Human-Animal Studies Annalisa Colombino, Heide K. Bruckner, 2023-06-07 This timely book provides a methodological guide for how to conduct and theorise research in human animal studies In response to critiques of the anthropomorphic slant to human animal research and the increasing political relevance of animals in contemporary environmental debates this book emphasises methods which bring to light the animal side of multispecies encounters Drawing from the interdisciplinary strength of human animal studies this book contains contributions from practitioners and scholars working in sociology anthropology ethology and geography Each chapter uses a case study approach to present a theoretical framework and empirical application of cutting edge methods in human animal studies from creative writing in multispecies ethnographies to visual methods like videography and body mapping Organized in three parts theorizing collaborating visualizing the book equips readers with methodological tools to conduct human animal studies research attentive to animal lives Furthermore chapters reflect on the opportunities limitations and ethical considerations of research that seeks to understand our more than human worlds The book is aimed towards undergraduate and graduate students in human animal studies and scholars investigating human animal relations It will also be of interest to practitioners and policy makers who engage with conservation wildlife management or the human animal interface of urban and regional planning
