Lamentate Arvo Pärt, 2005 Lamentate Arvo Pärt, Tate Modern (London), 2003 Anish Kapoor Anish Kapoor, 2008-05-23 This book surveys Anish Kapoor's work since 1979 with a focus on sculptures and installations made since the early 1990s With more than ninety color images of these ambitious and complex works three original essays an extended interview with Kapoor and selections from his sketchbooks this book confirms Anish Kapoor's place as one of the most remarkable sculptors working today Arvo Pärt's White Light Laura Dolp, 2017-07-13 One of the most frequently performed contemporary composers Arvo Pärt has become a phenomenon whose unusual reach is felt well beyond the concert hall This ground breaking collection of essays investigates both the causes and the effects of this success Beyond the rhetoric of holy minimalism that has accompanied the composer's reception since the mid 1980s each chapter takes a fresh approach toward understanding how Pärt's music has occupied social landscapes The result is a dynamic conversation among filmgoers who explore issues of empathy and resemblance concertgoers commerce and art listeners embodiment healing and the role of technology activists legacies of resistance and performers performance practice Collectively these studies offer a bold and thoughtful engagement with Pärt as a major cultural figure and reflect on the unprecedented impact of his music

The Body and the Arts Corinne Saunders, 2009-03-26 The Body and the Arts focuses on the dynamic relation between the body and the arts the body as inspiration subject symbol and medium Contributors from a variety of disciplines explore this relation across a range of periods and art forms spanning medicine literature from the classical period to the present and visual and performing arts Model Perspectives: Structure, Architecture and Culture Mark R. Cruvellier, Bjorn N. Sandaker, Luben Dimcheff, 2017-09-25 This book contains a unique collection of various perspectives on the relationship between structures and the forms and spaces of architecture As such it provides students and professionals alike with an essential sourcebook that can be mined for visual inspiration as well as for textually rich and authoritative insight into the links between structure architecture and cultural context The chapters address fundamental structural elements and systems columns walls beams trusses frames tensile structures arches domes and shells Each chapter is subdivided into two parts The essays introduce the chapters with the reprinting of a curated set of essays and excerpts by various authors that uniquely address how particular structural elements or systems relate in essential fashion to architectural design concepts The model studies physical models of the overall structural systems of several notable contemporary buildings from Europe North and South America Africa and Asia are illustrated with large photographs detail close ups and views of their external forms and internal spaces that establish the exceptional qualities of these projects in connecting structural form to architectural design objectives Mosaic layouts complete the chapters with a collection of photographs of yet more models whose particular details and unique features serve to extend the visual repertoire of the structural type being considered The combination juxtaposition and mutual positive reinforcement of these two collections one largely textual and the other image based provides the reader with unique and multifaceted insights into how structural forms and systems can be related to architectural design intentions Conveyed by a strong and deliberate graphical design format this assembly of materials gets to the very essence of structures within the context of architecture and will inspire students and practitioners alike to make strategic design decisions for their own projects

LamenTate Arvo Pärt, 2003 Anish Kapoor: my red homeland Anish Kapoor, 2003 Anish Kapoor is one of the most influential sculptors of his generation Kapoor sees his work as being engaged with deep rooted metaphysical polarities presence and absence being and non being place and non place the solid and the intangible Throughout Kapoor s sculptures his fascination with darkness and light is apparent the translucent quality of the resin works the absorbent nature of the pigment the radiant glow of alabaster and the fluid reflections of stainless steel and water Through this interplay between form and light Kapoor aspires to evoke sublime experiences which address primal physical and psychological states My Red Homeland presents a welcome retrospective view of Kapoor s work since the early 90s

The Magic of Tents Alejandro Bahamon, 2004-05-04 For years architects have enjoyed the challenge of incorporating lightweight structures fabrics tents canopies membranes and so on into their designs Such materials are a welcome boon to architectural creativity allowing designers to envision spaces that take innovative shapes and interact with their surroundings in ways unattainable with conventional materials Recent years have seen an increase in the use of such structures in part because advances in computer technology have made it easier to render and model such projects and in part because such structures are ideally suited to today s increasing concerns about environmentalism and sustainability The Magic of Tents showcases innovative uses of lightweight tented structures from across the United States and around the world from an Arizona school to an Istanbul bank from a Miami nightclub on the beach to a private home in Germany from corporate headquarters in Los Angeles to offices in Oslo and many more The book features both residential and commercial projects projects with both exterior and interior usages projects where the tented element is the driving component of the design and projects that incorporate lightweight structures to accent or address a specific need Endlessly flexible nurturing of creativity cost and energy conscious tented structures are an ideal means to address many concerns of modern architecture a creative means to not only define space but also to transform it into something to meet all sorts of design needs for projects both grand and small
