Angels of Death Roger S. Magnusson, 2002-02-15 Making Sense Of: Dying and Death , 2004-01-01 This book aims to extend upon the growing body of literature concerned with dying and death The book analyses various experiences and representations of dying and death from the perspective of academic disciplines as diverse as theology philosophy sociology anthropology and literature The rationale for this is simple As objects of study dying and death cannot be usefully reduced to a single academic perspective One cannot hope to gain a deep and comprehensive understanding of dying and death by gazing at them through a single lens Bringing various perspectives in a single volume aims to both accurately record those enduring properties of the phenomena such as mourning and fear whilst simultaneously analysing the diversity and heterogeneity of human beings attempts to come to terms with this most forbidding of existential horizons and the ways it should be treated Secondly there are chapters on assisted death Euthanasia that illuminate the practices involved in the professional assistance given to persons who suffer from an incurable illness and who do not want their painful life to be medically extended Thirdly there are chapters on mourning examined in a variety of cultural contexts These provide insights for different ways of maintaining the presence of the dead in the life of the living life in the hearts
