Bibliographic Research In Composition Studies Lenses On Composition Studies:

Bibliographic Research in Composition Studies Vicki Byard, 2009-10-02 Bibliographic Research in Composition Studies is a student friendly guide to how knowledge is constructed and disseminated in composition studies as well as a thorough handbook on how to conduct bibliographic research in the discipline. Student readers are taught Stephen North's taxonomy of scholarship, empirical research and practice so that they can better contextualize the sources they read and they learn the unique ways that some genres of publication function in composition studies. The book also leads students through the entire process of completing a bibliographic assignment.

Composition Studies Through a Feminist Lens Shari J. Stenberg, 2013-05-01 Composition Studies Through a Feminist Lens offers students a lucid and engaging introduction to the discipline's history, struggles and accomplishments through the lens of feminism. By illuminating a vast array of feminist contributions to the rhetorical tradition, writing theory and classroom pedagogy, Shari J. Stenberg shows how feminist scholars have made Composition Studies a more inclusive and innovative field.

Strategies for Writing Center Research Jackie Grutsch McKinney, 2015-09-15 Strategies for Writing Center Research is a how-to guide for conducting writing center research, introducing newcomers to the field to the methods for data collection, analysis and reporting appropriate for writing center studies.

Critical Conversations About Plagiarism Michael Donnelly, Rebecca Ingalls, 2012-11-10 Critical Conversations About Plagiarism is an edited collection of essays that addresses traditional, overly simplistic treatments of plagiarism by providing approaches to the topic that are complex, critical and challenging as well as accessible to both students and teachers.

An Introduction to Composition Studies Erika Lindemann, Gary Tate, 1991-07-04 This collection of nine commissioned essays introduces the non-specialist to the rapidly evolving field of composition studies, discussing the nature of the field, the relationship between composition and rhetoric and between theory and practice, the history of the discipline, its bibliographic sources and problems, its methods of research, teaching writing and the politics of the profession.

Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition Gary A. Olson, Todd W. Taylor, 1997-03-13 Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition is a collection of essays about the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition. The contributors to this book, many of whom are current or past editors of the discipline's most prestigious scholarly journals, undoubtedly have their finger on the pulse of composition's most current scholarship and offer invaluable insight into the production and publication of original research. They discuss publishing articles and reviews as well as book-length projects, including scholarly monographs, edited collections and textbooks. They also address such topics as how composition research is valued in English departments, recent developments in electronic publishing, the work habits of successful academic writers and the complications of mentoring graduate students in a publish-or-perish profession. An inviting and helpful tone makes this an ideal textbook for research methodology and professional writing courses.

Researching Writing Joyce Kinkead, 2015-07-21 Researching Writing is an accessible, informative textbook that teaches undergraduates how to conduct ethical authentic research in writing studies The book introduces students to the research approaches used most often and offers a course framework for professors creating or teaching research courses themselves Author Joyce Kinkead lays out the research process including finding and defining questions planning and starting the research Expository content introduces the language and methods of writing research and specific methods are demonstrated in published examples illustrating student work using student work and showing that it is possible for students to join the scholarly conversation in writing studies Other features include student activities instructor resources student resources and links to external content on journal websites digital publications YouTube and similar work The first ever textbook for research methods in writing studies for undergraduates Researching Writing takes a hands on approach that excites and engages students in the depth and complexities of research and will influence the creation of courses in new writing majors as the field continues to grow

Series Editors Sheryl I Fontaine and Steve Westbrook STRATEGIES FOR WRITING CENTER RESEARCH is a guide to empirical research on writing center work Though there are many other places where formal writing instruction conversations about writing conversations about teaching writing writing and revision happen these activities are all always occurring in writing centers All of the political theoretical social spatial technological and practical debates about how a someone becomes a better writer play out hour after hour in the writing center thus the possibility of the writing center as a site for serious interesting groundbreaking writing research cannot be overstated STRATEGIES FOR WRITING CENTER RESEARCH is divided into three parts that correspond more or less to the stages of a research project Part 1 includes an overview of writing center research an introduction to key terms for research a discussion of how to conduct bibliographic research in writing center studies and advice on shaping a research proposal Part 2 helps readers select appropriate research methods for their research questions Chapters are devoted to discourse analysis interviewing surveying fieldwork and action research including a discussion of the limitations ethical challenges and pitfalls to expect as well as a description of the sort of data collected Part 3 includes a discussion of approaches for analyzing and reporting research JACKIE GRUTSCH MCKINNEY is Director of the Writing Center and Professor of English at Ball State University in Muncie Indiana Her scholarship on writing center issues has appeared in key journals such as WPA Writing Program Administration Writing Center Journal Writing Lab Newsletter and Praxis A Writing Center Journal as well as in several writing center edited collections including Before and After the Tutorial Multiliteracy Centers and The St Martin s Sourcebook for Writing Tutors Her first book Peripheral Visions for Writing Centers won the International Writing Center Association Outstanding Book Award in 2014

Keywords in Composition Studies Paul Heilker, Peter Vandenberg, 1996 Keywords in Composition Studies is the first systematic inquiry into the vocabulary of writing teachers and theorists In brief yet heavily researched essays contributors explore the development of and interconnections among fifty five of the most consequential words in the field It is with these critical terms that the contemporary field of composition has been composed and in this sense Keywords in Composition Studies is an introduction to the principal ideas and ideals of compositionists Yet this book is neither a dictionary nor an encyclopedia it does not attempt to capture the established knowledge of a unified discipline through its vocabulary but rather explores the multiple layers of meaning inhabiting the words writing teachers and theorists have depended and continue to depend on most Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open overdetermined The purpose of each essay is to foreground a range of meaning signified by its central term rather than to pinpoint a meaning In this sense Keywords in Composition Studies is a practical model for reading the texts of an expanding and unsettled field

Toxicology Research Projects Directory, 1979 An indexed directory of current research project abstracts in toxicology and related fields

Exploring Composition Studies Kelly Ritter, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2010-05-20 Kelly Ritter and Paul Kei Matsuda have created an essential introduction to the field of composition studies for graduate students and instructors new to the study of writing The book offers a careful exploration of this diverse field focusing specifically on scholarship of writing and composing Within this territory the authors draw the boundaries broadly to include allied sites of research such as professional and technical writing writing across the curriculum programs writing centers and writing program administration Importantly they represent composition as a dynamic eclectic field influenced by factors both within the academy and without The editors and their sixteen seasoned contributors have created a comprehensive and thoughtful exploration of composition studies as it stands in the early twenty first century Given the rapid growth of this field and the evolution of its research and pedagogical agendas over even the last ten years this multi vocal introduction is long overdue

The Rhetoric of Cool Jeff Rice, 2007-05-11 The Rhetoric of Cool Composition Studies and New Media offers a historical critique of composition studies rebirth narrative using that critique to propose a new rhetoric for new media work Author Jeff Rice returns to critical moments during the rebirth of composition studies when the discipline chose not to emphasize technology cultural studies and visual writing which are now fundamental to composition studies Rice redefines these moments in order to invent a new electronic practice The Rhetoric of Cool addresses the disciplinary claim that composition studies underwent a rebirth in 1963 At that time three writers reviewed technology cultural studies and visual writing outside composition studies and independently used the word cool to describe each position Starting from these three positions Rice focuses on chora appropriation commutation juxtaposition nonlinearity and imagery rhetorical gestures conducive to new media work to construct the rhetoric of cool An innovative work that approaches computers and writing issues from historical critical theoretical and practical perspectives The Rhetoric of Cool challenges current understandings of writing and new media and proposes a rhetorical rather than an instrumental response for teaching writing in new media contexts

CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric, 1989 Erika

Lindemann, Sandra Monroe Fleming, 1991-05-01 Published for the Conference on College Composition and Communication this volume offers teachers and researchers an annual classified listing of scholarship on written English and its teaching at the college level The 1989 volume lists and annotates 1 857 articles books dissertations and papers A group of 127 contributing bibliographers prepared the citations and annotations for all entries The volume includes an index of authors and editors and cross references entries according to subject matter Entries appear under five major categories bibliographies and checklists theory and research teacher education administration and social roles curriculum and testing measurement and evaluation Although The CCCC Bibliography excludes master s theses textbooks computer software and book reviews it includes review essays articles appearing in some 150 journals scholarly books and essay collections citations to dissertations abstracted in Dissertation Abstracts International and selected documents and conference materials available through ERIC Other bibliographies in the field of composition studies The CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric is more comprehensive than other bibliographies in the field of composition studies It also draws upon a large group of experts in the field to aid teachers and researchers in sorting through a vast body of interdisciplinary material making their work easier and more effective Current Index to Journals in Education ,1997 Academic Advancement in Composition Studies Richard C. Gebhardt, Barbara Genelle Smith Gebhardt, 2023-04-28 This volume deals with a number of related issues that are becoming increasingly crucial for English studies during this time when most faculty in the field are assistant professors approaching tenure review or associate professors seeking promotion These critical issues focus on The diversity of research and scholarly publication in composition studies The fact that composition studies faculty are often evaluated by personnel committee members department chairs and deans unfamiliar with the nature and demands of the field The way that American higher education is rethinking scholarship and the role it plays in the work and evaluation of faculty members and The role composition studies faculty can play in this review of scholarship and professional advancement This book seeks to address the entire spectrum of composition studies expository and argumentative writing personal essay literary nonfiction technical and business writing historical rhetoric empirical research and more by understanding the nature of and evaluating the work of faculty members in this broad field Scholarship and advancement issues are discussed in a variety of situations including basic and regular first year composition classes at four year and two year institutions or writing centers advanced writing courses ESL and skills development programs and writing classes and programs for teachers administrators and researchers The chapters focus on a variety of subjects including the importance of mentoring and faculty development in all departments and institutions and how young scholar teachers and assistant professors can prepare for a successful personnel or tenure review Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory's critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works

Bibliographic Guide to Education, 2001 lists publications cataloged by Teachers College Columbia University supplemented by The Research Libraries of The New York Public Library

CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric 1994 Cynthia L. Selfe, 1996-09 This volume lists and annotates more than two thousand articles books dissertations and papers that with few exceptions appeared in 1994 It includes an index of authors and editors a subject index and entries cross referenced according to subject matter The 1994 Bibliography looks dramatically different from the Bibliography Erika Lindemann founded more than ten years ago Many more titles now relate to fields not represented in early editions Although composition and rhetoric has always borrowed methods of investigation from other disciplines areas such as critical theory science studies feminist theory technology studies and postmodern theory were much less a part of the discipline a decade ago These fields are well represented this year This volume like the 1993 Bibliography also differs from early editions in that it contains a section on electronic discussion groups or listservs including information on how readers may join the various groups Yet the mission and goals of the Bibliography remain the same to ensure that it is sufficiently comprehensive that it can continue to function as a major bibliographical resource available to scholars and teachers in rhetoric composition communication and literary education As usual the CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric draws on a large group of experts in the field Annotations which accompany every entry in this volume describe a publication's contents and are intended to help users determine the entry's usefulness Annotations are brief and are meant to be descriptive not evaluative they explain what an entry is about but leave readers free to judge for themselves the work's merits The CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric remains a critical bibliographical resource one that reflects and respects the variety of scholarship in composition studies and that exerts a constructive productive influence on the composition and rhetoric community
