Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 2010      Independent Review of Police Officer and Staff Remuneration and Conditions final report Thomas P. Winsor, Independent Review of Police Officer and Staff Remuneration and Conditions, 2012-03-15 This Review has established that the police service is currently ill equipped to respond to possible and probable changes in increasingly specialised crime trends political accountability financial resources and the demographics of its workforce This report covers reforms that may be introduced in the longer term An earlier report on reforms that could be introduced in the short term published in March 2011 Cm 8024 ISBN 9780101802420 and made recommendations for savings of 1 1 billion over 3 years most of which are being implemented following a determination of the Police Arbitration Panel This report makes recommendations which could realise gross savings of 1 9 billion with 1 2 billion reinvested in policing The 121 recommendations cover employment framework entry route and promotion health fitness and managing the workforce basic pay contribution related pay and role based pay negotiating machinery Each chapter contains a recommended phased process for introduction The recommendations will provide the police service with the ability to attract and retain high calibre candidates with different skills and experiences to maintain operational resilience by maximising the deployment of fit and healthy officers and to manage office numbers according to need and in the public interest Entry into the police service and advancement within would be according to the sole criterion of merit The recommendations for reform of the pay review apparatus will have a profound effect establishing a well resourced professional pay review body ensuring that officers pay is determined on sound evidence      Ending the Scandal of Complacency Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Transport Committee, 2008 Although road accident deaths have halved between 1958 and 2007 whilst the number of licensed motor vehicles and vehicle mileage covered increased by 400 per cent the current rate of 3 000 deaths and 250 000 injuries is still an unacceptably high level Road accidents are the largest single cause of death for people between the ages of 5 and 35 in Britain and road accidents cost our economy some 18 billion each year The number of deaths and injuries on roads far outweighs the deaths and injuries in other transport modes and should be viewed as a major public health problem The Government should establish a British Road Safety Survey to track overall casualty and safety trends and review current methods for recording road traffic injuries The Committee recommends a systems approach to road safety ensuring the vehicle the road infrastructure regulations and driver training are designed to similar safety and performance standards Other recommendations include more 20 mph speed limits a more proactive approach to determining the safety benefits of new vehicle technologies action on young drivers who represent a disproportionate risk to road users and vulnerable users motorcyclists elderly and child pedestrians and cyclists horse riders a higher priority given to enforcement of drink drive and drug drive offences The Committee recommends the establishment of an independent Road Safety Commission with powers to work across the whole of government ensuring that a high priority and adequate resources are given to road safety and that all government departments and agencies give active support The Government should also establish a road accident investigation branch like those in aviation rail and marine
