The background of the cover is a traditional Japanese ink wash painting (suiboku-ga) depicting a man in a blue robe and a white headband, possibly a scholar or a collector, looking down at a large, dark, crumpled object. The scene is set in a room with a tatami floor and a sliding door (shoji) in the background. The man's expression is one of contemplation or discovery. The overall style is characteristic of Edo-period Japanese art.

Acquisition Art And Ownership In Edo Period Japan:

Acquisition Elizabeth Lillehoj, 2007-08 Examines how and why people bought sold donated and received works of art at a time of dynamic exchanges between those making and those acquiring art Art and Palace Politics in Early Modern Japan, 1580s-1680s Elizabeth Lillehoj, 2011-08-29 During the first century of Japan's early modern era 1580s to 1680s art and architecture created for the imperial court served as markers of social prestige testifying to the enduring centrality of the palace to the cultural life of Kyoto Emperors Go Y zeii and Go Mizunoo relied on financial support from ruling warlords Toyotomi Hideyoshi and the Tokugawa shoguns just as the warlords sought imperial sanction granting them legitimacy to rule Taking advantage of this complex but oftentimes strained synergy Go Y zeii and Go Mizunoo and to an unprecedented extent his empress T fukumon enhanced the hereditary prerogatives of the imperial family Among the works described in this volume are masterpieces commissioned for the residences and temples of the imperial family which were painted by artists of the Kano Tosa and Sumiyoshi ateliers not to mention Tawaraya S tatsu Anonymous but deluxe painting commissions depicting grand imperial processions are examined in detail The court's fascination with calligraphy and tea arts that flourished in this age is also discussed in this profusely illustrated volume Gender, Continuity, and the Shaping of Modernity in the Arts of East Asia, 16th-20th Centuries, 2017-10-10 Gender Continuity and the Shaping of Modernity in the Arts of East Asia 16th 20th Centuries explores women's and men's contributions to the arts and gendered visual representations in China Korea and Japan from the premodern through modern eras A critical introduction and nine essays consider how threads of continuity and exchanges between the cultures of East Asia Europe and the United States helped to shape modernity in this region in the process revealing East Asia as a vital component of the trans Pacific world The essays are organized into three themes representations of femininity women as makers and constructions of gender and they consider examples of architecture painting woodblock prints and illustrated books photography and textiles Contributors are Lara C W Blanchard Kristen L Chiem Charlotte Horlyck Ikumi Kaminishi Nayeon Kim Sunglim Kim Radu Leca Elizabeth Lillehoj Ying chen Peng and Christina M Spiker Gender Continuity and the Shaping of Modernity in the Arts of East Asia 16th 20th Centuries is now available in paperback for individual customers Between China and Japan Joshua A. Fogel, 2015-05-12 Over the past thirty five years Joshua Fogel has pioneered the study of Sino Japanese cultural and political relations understood as the intersections of the histories of these two countries This volume brings together many of his essays and reviews in this new field For a variety of reasons discussed within scholars have been reluctant to look at these two nation's historical connections either through comparative analysis or actual interactions Fogel's work has focused squarely here Among the issues addressed are Japanese scholarly views of modern China and Chinese history Chinese considerations of the Japanese language in the Ming and Qing periods the Japanese immigration to the East Asian Mainland especially to Shanghai and Harbin and more Partners in Print Julie Nelson Davis, 2014-12-31 This compelling account of collaboration in the genre of ukiyo e pictures of the floating world offers a new approach to understanding the production and reception of print culture in early modern Japan. It provides a corrective to the perception that the ukiyo e tradition was the product of the creative talents of individual artists, revealing instead the many identities that made and disseminated printed work. Julie Nelson Davis demonstrates by way of examples from the later eighteenth century that this popular genre was the result of an exchange among publishers, designers, writers, carvers, printers, patrons, buyers, and readers. By recasting these works as examples of a network of commercial and artistic cooperation, she offers a nuanced view of the complexity of this tradition and expands our understanding of the dynamic processes of production, reception, and intention in floating world print culture. Four case studies give evidence of what constituted modes of collaboration among artistic producers in the period. In each case, Davis explores a different configuration of collaboration: that between a teacher and a student, two painters and their publishers, a designer and a publisher, and a writer and an illustrator. Each investigates a mode of partnership through a single work: a specially commissioned print, a lavishly illustrated album, a printed handscroll, and an inexpensive illustrated novel. These case studies explore the diversity of printed things in the period, ranging from expensive works made for a select circle of connoisseurs to those meant to be sold at a modest price to a large audience. They take up familiar subjects from the floating world: connoisseurship, beauty, sex, and humor, and explore multiple dimensions of inquiry vital to that dynamic culture: the status of art, the evaluation of beauty, the representation of sexuality, and the tension between mind and body. Where earlier studies of woodblock prints have tended to focus on the individual artist, Partners in Print takes the subject a major step forward to a richer picture of the creative process. Placing these works in their period context not only reveals an aesthetic network responsive to and shaped by the desires of consumers in a specific place and time, but also contributes to a larger discussion about the role of art and the place of the material text in the early modern world.

Koume's World Simon Partner, 2023-12-12 Kawai Koume (1804-1889) was an accomplished poet and painter and a wife, mother, and grandmother in a lower ranking samurai family in the provincial castle town of Wakayama. She was an eyewitness to many of the key events leading up to the Meiji Restoration and the radical changes that followed, including the famine of 1837, the great earthquake of 1854, the cholera epidemic of 1859, and the departure of samurai to fight in the civil wars of the 1860s. For more than fifty years, she kept a diary recording her family's daily life, meals, and expenses, visitors, and the weather, small town gossip, and news of momentous events. Through Koume's eyes and words, Simon Partner opens a window on social, economic, and cultural life amid some of the most dramatic periods of Japan's transformative nineteenth century. Koume's World vividly portrays the everyday activities, social interactions, information networks, cultural production, and household economy of a samurai family across the Tokugawa/Meiji divide. Partner's narrative offers a remarkably detailed portrait of the dynamic working life of a female artist and household manager, while also giving a regional perspective on the upheavals surrounding the Meiji Restoration. A compelling microhistorical study of gender, economy, and society in nineteenth century Japan Koume's World is a compelling account of how one woman experienced both mundane routines and drastic social transformations

Painting Nature for the Nation Rosina Buckland, 2012-12-10 In Painting Nature for the Nation Taki Katei and the Challenges to Sinophile Culture in Meiji Japan Rosina Buckland offers an account of the career of the painter Taki Katei 1830-1901 Drawing on a large body of previously unpublished paintings collaborative works and book illustrations by this highly successful yet neglected figure Buckland traces how Katei transformed his art and practice based in modes derived from China in order to fulfil the needs of the modern nation state at large scale exhibitions and at the imperial court She provides a rare examination of the vibrant world of Chinese inspired culture during the 1880s and the hostility which it faced in the following decade
