Larry M. Pistole, 1981 Summary A Surgeon's wife find herself drawn to afternoon work in a brothel The Last War of the Superfortresses Leonid Krylov, Ilya Tepsurkaev, 2016 This work is an attempt by the authors to give as full and detailed a history as possible of the confrontation between Soviet fighters and the principal strike force of the United States Far East Air Force the B 29 Superfortress bombers during the course of the Korean War between 1950-1953. Military documents which the authors have studied over many years of work in the Central Archive of the Ministry of Defense of the Russian Federation in Podolsk as well as published Western sources form the basis of this book. The recollections of pilots who served in the 64th Fighter Air Corps and who participated personally in the events described are also widely used. Almost all the battles that took place between Soviet fighters and the Superfortresses are analyzed in detail; the authors have on the basis of a comparison of Soviet archive documents and data from published Western sources attempted to clarify the actual losses on both sides in these battles. Particular attention has been paid to key events in the history of the confrontation between the MiG 15 and B 29 such as the air battles of April and October 1951 which had a significant impact on the course of the Korean War and influenced the development of military aviation in both the USSR and the USA. Following the encounters on the approaches to the bridges at Andung of 12 April 1951 Strategic Air Command decided against using Superfortresses close to the area around the MiG bases. The outcome of a series of air battles from 22 to 27 October 1951, the most famous of which was the battle between MiGs and B 29s in the area close to the airfield at Namsi on 23 October (Black Tuesday) was a ban by Strategic Air Command on daylight operations by Superfortresses in the Soviet fighter's zone of operation. These battles also influenced the technical policy of the United States Air Force in relation to strategic bombers. Extensive losses in combat with the MiGs served as one of the most influential arguments for curtailing the piston engine B 36 and B 50 bomber programs and boosting development of one of the most famous aircraft in the history of global aviation the B 52 Stratofortress. Night operations to which the B 29s and subsequently Soviet fighters were transferred are also analyzed in detail in this book. These nocturnal operations culminated in the air battles of December 1952 and January 1953. After sustaining losses in these battles that were comparable to those of October 1951 the Superfortresses would subsequently only carry out nocturnal sorties to the MiGs zone of operation in poor weather conditions. In this work the authors have analyzed the advantages and the disadvantages of the La 11 and the MiG 15bis, the principal fighters of the 64th Fighter Air Corps from the point of view of their ability to intercept the B 29s. Attention has been paid to the tactics of the opposing sides and to how these changed over the course of the war. The technical aspects of the confrontation between Soviet fighters and Superfortresses have been examined and the reasons behind the different periods of success or failure in terms of performance in combat have been identified. A great deal of statistical material has been provided in this book which characterizes combat operations carried out by the B 29s and the fighters of the 64th Fighter Air Corps both within the text itself and in the form of easy to use tables.

The book is illustrated with photographs obtained both from the personal archives of veterans of the 64th Fighter Air Corps from the Central Archive of the Ministry of Defense of the Russian Federation and US National Archives Color profiles showing camouflage markings are also included Sino-Soviet Relations, 1945-1973 Олег Борисович Борисов, Борис Трофимович Колосков, 1975 Air Force Magazine ,1997
