Routine and Varying Practice as Preparation for Adjustment to a New Situation Leland Whitney Crafts, 1927

Cross-cultural Differences in Perspectives on the Self Virginia Murphy-Berman, John J. Berman, 2003-01-01 Cross Cultural Difference in Perspectives on the Self features the latest research in a dynamic area of inquiry and practice Considered in these pages are cross cultural differences in the idea of the person and in models of balancing obligations to the self family and community Revisiting and questioning the concepts of self and self worth the authors investigate the extent to which factors traditionally associated with psychological effectiveness intrinsic motivation assuming personal responsibility for one's actions and feeling in control unique hopeful and optimistic are culturally bound Hazel Markus and Shinobu Kitayama consider cultural differences in models of psychological agency Joan Miller critiques the meaning of the term agency analyzing the extent to which many popular theories in psychology rest on rather narrow Western models of behavior and effective functioning Steven Heine calls into question the presumed universality of some forms of cognitive processing Sheena Iyengar and Sanford DeVoe apply a cross cultural perspective to better understand intrinsic and extrinsic motivation and the value of choice Kuo shu Yang questions the universality of the pervasive and popular theory of self actualization formulated by Abraham Maslow and finally Ype Poortinga reexamines not only the cultural boundaries of theory but also the very meaning of the concept of culture itself

Psychology at the Turn of the Millennium, Volume 2 Lars

Backman, Claes von Hofsten, 2002-04-04 These two volumes represent the cutting edge of contemporary theory and research in psychological science Based on the keynote and state of the art lectures from the 27th International Congress of Psychology the volumes feature a collection of chapters written by international leaders in psychological scholarship The chapters reflect the diversity of current research topics in psychology where old boundaries have become obsolete and subdivisions from the past merge to form new objects of study Volume 1 addresses cognitive biological and health perspectives It includes sections on the neural mechanisms underlying psychological processes the core areas in experimental psychology perception attention learning and memory the multiple aspects of psychological health the interaction between cognitive and emotional processes and higher cognitive processes with special focus on decision making and language Volume 2 deals with social developmental and clinical perspectives The sections highlight human development across the life span basic and applied issues in personality emotion and clinical psychology social psychology ranging from experimental work through social constructivism and gender

The Philosophical Quarterly, 1927 Structural

Adjustment and Socio-economic Change in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Gibbon, Adebayo O. Olukoshi, 1996 This report summarises the results of work at the Nordiska Afrikainstitutet Nordic Africa Institute NAI on the impact of structural adjustment implementation on the economies states and societies of sub Saharan Africa It consists of two essays and an appendix listing research projects which have been or are being carried out under the auspices of NAI The first essay raises a series of conceptual and methodological questions in the context of a presentation of some of the main empirical results obtained from extended field work carried out during the course of 1992 and 1993 in Kenya Tanzania and Zimbabwe The second essay presents the three main themes private trading networks and structures the changing political economy of land and popular forms of social provisioning that constitute the core of the second phase of NAI s structural adjustment research and in so doing provides a review of aspects of the adjustment literature This report is therefore an attempt both at stock taking and agenda building as part of a wider quest for deepening our understanding of the structures and processes of socio economic change associated with the crisis and adjustment years in contemporary Africa Wawokiye Camp Wilber Irvin
