Meeting the Transitional Needs of Young Adult Learners C. Amelia Davis, Joann S. Olson, 2014-09-22

This is the first New Directions volume related to young adult learners since 1984. Then as now young adults are an important segment of the adult population but have received scant attention in the adult education literature. Increasingly youths and young adults are enrolling in adult education programs and in doing so are changing the meaning of adulthood. Given the significant demographic technological and cultural shifts during the past 30 years there is an increasing need for practitioners and program planners to reconsider what constitutes adult and adult education. An understanding of the changing meaning of adulthood is fundamental to developing programs and policies that will address the needs of younger learners and we believe it is time for an updated discussion among adult educators and scholars in other disciplines. This sourcebook is designed to reignite the discussion related to meeting the educational needs of young adults along with a timely and interdisciplinary discussion that highlights the transitional needs of young adult learners.

Table of contents

- 1 Conceptualizing Transitions to Adulthood Johanna Wyn
This opening chapter lays the groundwork for this volume by providing an overview of adult development theories as they relate to the transition to young adulthood along with a discussion of the blurring between youth and adult due to the ambiguity encountered when trying to define adulthood.
- 2 Culture Conditions and the Transition to Adulthood Brendaly Drayton
An individual's culture shapes both the definition of adult and the experience of the transition to adulthood. Furthermore the transition to adulthood may serve as a time when an individual's cultural identity is more consciously defined and more personally salient. This chapter explores the intersection of culture and adulthood.
